Just another address goes into the filter.

I get a kick out of putting the goof balls in the filter. Just one post and their gone. But then they change their address, so another 5 seconds and their gone.

You know, now that I think about it, you are a fake!!! How do we know that you are actually kb9rqz??? You have shown no proof, none. I, on the other hand would gladly give you my phone
#, business #, even my address, so you are the fake.

He needs the attention.
What really hurts him is when you ignore him....
THEN he responds to every post and spams in hopes of being validated.

Hey Jay. Nice to see someone still around that actually talks radios. Too bad it's lost in all the chaff. I haven't been through here in a couple of years but thought I'd give it a look-see. Other than the opportunity to say howdy to you I'm thinking it might just have been a waste of time.

Keep on rollin bud.

Hello Jeff:

Yeah there are a few of us still around here at times.

Ya just add the goof balls to your filter and this thins em out big time. So you can read the radio related postings.

When I open up the news groups I can see like 30 to 50 new posts but when I open up the CB News Group I will only see a few new postings that I don't have filtered out, works great.

Hope all is well with you and your family.

Hi Jeff, yeah it's me.. same old Steve with the Belvedere. You may have noticed I still have the same fan club so I must be doing something right.

At any rate it's nice to see you post in the zoo again. Me.. I'm dialing in this kenwood ts870 with the same amp and antenna's that I've been running since the last time we talked. (the 870 is new to me six weeks)

I did pick up a fairly nice 60' crank-up tower used for $500 and it needed some TLC so I've been sand blasting/primer/painting it this summer. This new paint job and the new cables to follow should make it last a while. Norm rebuilt my hamIV rotator in the mean time, I highly recommend him for rotor service if anyone needs that.

At any rate, the band is getting busy again so I figured I better get my gear in order again.

Would help if you didn't associate with known child pornographers like me (Steveo). I'm sorry that you look like the big asshole now, for associating with me. I like to puke up the newsgroups with my garbage and harrass the innocent posters. Have a great day, fuckhole.

They (aioe) managed to block this post to can.internet.highspeed i guess because of the poster being on the blacklist.

Also ignore the police knocking down the door for the kiddie porn downloaded through that same connection, or the threats made to your former employer, or the Al Qaeda Message-of-the-day sent to CNN via your connection.

(Seriously: I had a chat with the Renfrew OPP and they have gone a-knocking when an IP came back to a specific house, only to discover it was a little old lady with a wifi-connection her grandkids insecurely set up)

I don't know for sure, but a strong argument could be made for theft of service (You are using a service for which you did not pay for, the homeowner did and you may potentially be causing them costs by incurring bandwidth charges, for example)

"block"? At most 'they' filtered it, i.e. didn't allow it on 'their' server.

And what the heck is that "1, 2" References: supposed to mean? If you

<DESCRIPTION> Comments on WT 98-143
<NOTIFY> erlpnk...@aol.com
<TEXT>

To the Members of the Commission Assembled:

I am Steven Robeson. I have been a licensee in the Amateur Radio Service
since 1972 and am presently the licensee of Amateur Radio Station K4YZ and hold an Amateur Extra Class Operators license. I comment to you today on the matter
of WT 98-143.

There can be no doubt that there has been quantum leaps in the field of radiocommunication since the last major rewrite of Part 97. This includes the
"Incentive Licensing" system that was implemented in the late 1960's.

It is clearly time to change the system.

The Commission has solicited comments relative to that circumstance, and I hope the following will be considered in that act.

First of all, I would like to wholeheartedly approve of the concept of reducing the number of Amateur License classes from six to four.
There is much confusion as to "who's who" as it is now, and a reduction in the licensing process would alleviate that disparity. As such, I envision the following as being appropriate for said restructuring:

Amateur Class D: The Amateur Class D license would become the de facto
"entry class" license for the Amateur Service. In light of the grossly decreased demand for the Novice License and reduced useage of the sub-bands
allocated for thier use, I would deactivate it as the "entry class" licenese.
The Class D License would for all intents and purposes be the same as the current "Codeless Technician" class license. The examination for this license would remove questions pertaining to HF (1.8 to 30 MHZ) theory and operation,
and be strictly limited to matters pertaining to VHF/UHF theory and
operation,
regulatory matters and Amateur practice. All Amateur privileges above 30 MHZ
would be conveyed to the successful applicant.

Amateur Class C: The Class C license would be the entry level license for operation on the HF spectrum. It would require the successful applicant either hold a Class D license, or successfully complete the Class D examination in addition to an examination on basic HF theory, propagation and practice. It would also require an examination in proficiency in the sending and receiving of Morse Code at a speed of not more than 5 (five) words per minute.
Persons presently holding a Novice Class License or Technician Plus license would be grandfathered into this class of license, except that they would be required to take a 20 question open book examination at a VE Testing Session on the privileges and restrictions of the Class C License prior to utilizing those privileges. Allocations would include those presently enjoyed by the Amateur General Class licensee except for operation of the 160, 30, 17 and 12 meter bands.

Class B: The Class B license would incorporate the present Amateur General and Amateur Advanced license. All amateur priviledges as are presently enjoyed by the Amateur Advanced would be authorized with Amateur General's being grandfathered into Class B. New licensee's would be required to pass a written examination on advanced radio frequency technology, amateur practice, regulations and an examination in proficiency in the sending and receiving of Morse Code at a rate of not more than 12 (twelve) words per minute. This would be consistent with the present CEPT program, which the United States is presently negotiating membership in. Additional frequency allocations would be authorized by the "refarming" of the subbands presently allocated to the Novice Class, and divided with the Class A license.

Class A: The Amateur Class A would convey all Amateur operating privileges to the successfull applicant. Present subband authorizations enjoyed in the "CW" bands would be unchanged and new exclusive phone allocations for the Class A would be "refarmed" from the deactivated Novice license and by rellocating from the "high" end of present CW allocations where operation is sparse. A quick scanning of those portions of the spectrum will demonstrate that minimal use is made of this portion of the authorized allocations and reallocation to "phone" or other "wideband" emission types is reasonable.

The Class A applicant will demonstrate advance/expert level knowledge of RF technology and Amateur practice. No additional Morse Code examination would be required.

To further simplify the administrative process of the Commission, I would discontinue the present "sequential" callsign system. Upon successful passing of the requirements for an Amateur Examination, the applicant would be issued a "2 by 3" callsign (ie: KA4AAA) by the Commission. Those wishing to specifically select a callsign of a particular format would be provided that opportunity by the "Vanity" callsign system. The Commission would specify those formats of callsigns permitted by class, but it would be up to the applicant to chose the desired call, and appropriate fee paid for the privilege of obtaining said call.

As for the occassionally emotional debate on the retention of the Morse Code requirement, I am steadfastly in favor of retention of the use of Morse Code and demonstration of it's use for the Amateur Service. Among it's prouder traditions has been the Amateur's ability to communicate across international boarders and foster communication between citizens in countries which may not have a common language in which to conduct that communication. Morse Code is the "common denominator" in international communications and should be retained.

As for the arguement that more efficient or reliable methods of communication exist, it is a time proven fact that the simplicity of Morse Code systems has allowed us to communicate with portions of the world that cannot enjoy the same level of access to technology that we as American's enjoy.

And to echo the comments of another commentor to these proceedings, I would like to express my concern over the decline of the overall technical skill and knowledge of the average Amateur. I firmly believe that this is the direct result of the publishing of Amateur Radio question and answer test pools in the public domain. I feel it is as rediculous a concept as for our schools

to prepublish the questions and answers of mid-terms and finals.
Closing the pools except to the VEC's, the Commission, and an independent oversight committee approved by the Commission would go a long way towards ensuring that the successful applicant has a minimal and sufficient retention of
the
requisite knowledge for an Amateur license.

Lastly, I would consider all of this for naught if the Commission were to fail to make a determined and on-going effort to enforce the rules
and regulations as they pertain to the operation of Amatuer Radio Stations. It is an embarrasment that we are as frail as any other subset of human society, and we too have our share of ner'-do-wells and rabble-rousers. But unlike a local
"protest" or civil disturbances in one localized area, radiocommunication has the potential of causing a disruption over a massive, if not worldwide area, even when that disruption is perpetrated by only a few "rotten apples". The Amateur Service still prides itself on it's own "self policing" activities, and this activity is unprecedented in any other Service under the Commission's
domain, but only so much can be accomplished short of vigilanteism.
The Commission's assurance that they will enforce these regulations and back it up with action will be the one greatest action the Commission could take.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/ Steven James Robeson, LPN

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

sure does FCC.gv say so

And the Federal Communications Commission gave me my license in 7/87. I enjoyed it for almost 8 years, then certain groups of Hams with what they thought were morals better than others started to preach that you should "talk" a certain way. Meaning even though we were following the guidelines & rules, they didn't like us talking about certain subjects.
So that being said I kind of faded out of the game and put the equip into mothballs (someday I'll take it up again). That is the same data base that you get for a license verification, so you can repeat all you want, but I am real as it gets Mark, sorry to burst your bubble.

OK, I got an old linear that I acquired from my late FIL about 20 yrs ago. It's been in cool clean storage ever since and I'd like to get rid of it. I tried to sell on ebay till I got mucho alerts to the effect ebay no liking CB linear listings. I pulled it. I don't know much about radio, but I'm sure it was a CB linear cuz he never had a ham license. I was advised by one helpful fellow that I should list it as a ham linear and make no mention of CB. That makes sense, but I pride myself on being very accurate and honest about what I sell and so would like some help identifying this particular piece of hardware, it at all possible.

It has no brand name on it, so I suspect it's a homebrew. It's a very nice job if it is. It has a 2" high chassis box with one vacuum tube and a pretty good size transformer mounted on top. A 4" high full cover over that is machine perferated on 3 sides for cooling.

Transformer: GRAND 11-2206A GT-6974 7578049
vacuum tube: 6805/EL84

On lower front lower chassis, it has an ON/OFF and STDBY switch and one red light. The meter is a Sonar brand:

S units --> DB
Output 0-30+

Rear lower chassis has IN and OUT antenna jacks and a ground wire terminal and of course, an AC plug. Overall dimensions with cover on are 6"H X 7"W X 5"D. Weight approx 6-8lbs.

I don't know if anything can be determined by the above info, but any help would be appreciated. I can open her up all the way, if that will help. I'm not real savvy on radio, but do know basic electronics and can identify different components. Thank you.

Sounds like he's better off. From all I've heard about you lot, and from you, as well, you're outer-filthing stalker-kooks, cowards, blackmailers, and forgers. Mark's kookiness is limited to, well, trying to mute your harassment of him. Basically, you hate that he's a dyslexic who doesn't know Morse, and an out bisexual (which you perceive as a synonym for homosexuality, highlighting your cluelessness and bigotry (here's a clue: Bi people like both men and women, but not necessarily transpeople)), meaning you can't blackmail him to force him off the airwaves, usenet, or the internet, or pressure him in pretty much any way at all, except the kookiest way.

Of course, you could see your way to, I dunno, maybe adequately defending yourselves, but if you're the kooks I believe you to be, you'll step up the campaign of harassment instead (or whine about my persecution of you), which would have the one bright spot of making you better candidates for kook awards.

On the subject of adequate self-defence, revealing the names of Mark's fanbois (the ones doing the frogging and forging -- I only have a short list, at the moment, but that will change) would be a great start, since I'm currently assuming all regulars in rec.radio.*, who are not kookologists, are in his fan club. No, that doesn't do much for your reputations, does it? With Kookpedia up and running, it'll become quite easy to Google your names and get FAQs about your treatment of Mark Morgan, one day. If I were you, I'd want to be excluded from that. Lie down with cowards, get up with sleaze.

As of this time last evening, August 5th, 2008, the membership of the CCRAA Amateur Radio Club voted to remove Mark C. Morgan, KB9RQZ, as their club president. They impeached him.
Mark's wife, Gav, KD8CTL, depending upon who you believe, was either asked to leave or resigned her position as club Secretary, too.
Mark was up all night last evening as he fabricated excuse after escuse after excuse, each one different than the last, as to why he was ousted. In all of his twisted tales Mark continues to carry a common thread. That he is a victim. His impeachment was someone else's fault, not his.

Mark refuses to admit that his own kookiness was in any way responsible for his fellow club members voting to give him the boot.

12 watts plate dissapation in class A1. They are useful upto 30 MHz or so. They were also used as RF output stage for some older tube CB radios in the 60's. You can get about 3.5 watts carrier out in a class C plate modulated stage. Sufficient for meeting the requirements for
CB. They were definitely more common in audio applications.

They are awash in their self-proclaimed glory after they posed as an underage person and agreed to do all sorts of sex acts wioth adult males, and they are adults posing as teenager themselves. They make themsleves into liars by falsely impersonating underage persons and by not fuilfilling the words they tell the victims online in their chats. Why don't you read it where they tell these victims of their deceit about how they have been with grown men and such? Why don't you read it where they say, "That would be cool." after someone makes an advance towards an adult who is posing as a teenager? And, where they agree to meet the person, etc.
Lost control, didn't you?
Is that why you feel as if you need to lie so much now? I see where lots of these false impersonation games are not sticking. Not. Merely because you can't be bothered to look shit up doesn't mean I'm "anonymous". Anyway, you post your rants through Google, so your cluelessness is obvious. There are free newsservers out there, as well as for-pay ones, so you're far from condemned to use Google.

> hypocrite coward from the Kook board whining

What, he should put up with your forging, frogging, and homophobic bullshit? Yes, "your". Even now, you're using a frog of one of Mark's email accounts to post, so you're just another member of his fan club, which makes you a member of mine as well. There's no difference between you and Punceorama, except the latter uses a newsreader.

> How hypocritical of you to first target Mark for one of your little childish
> Kooky awards,

First, "I" didn't target Mark -- someone else made the nomination, two years ago. Second, he was a valid winner, but only of that single award.

> and then show up here like the sniviling little anymouse coward you > are, defending the same person you targeted for your version of

I "showed up" nowhere. You have chosen to appear in AUK "as if by magic", quite consistently for years, trying to harass Mark off the air, off the internet, and off usenet, and alternatively get him nominated for a "little childish kooky award" (the primary purpose in posting to AUK, for most of usenet).

> My what a hypocritical<BITCHSLAP>

You'll address your Supreme High Overlord with RESPECT, frogging, homophobic coward.

> "Canadian's why did we involve them in the war...they are worse than the

No, Canadians involved you in the war, until you decided to get into it for real, in 1941.

MINUTES OF THE JULY 1, 2008 CCRAA MEETING
(No minutes were available at the July meeting)
MINUTES OF THE AUGUST 5, 2008 MEETING
The meeting opened at 7:02 pm EDT with the Secretary (KD8CTL) reading the minutes of the July 1, meeting. (Not reported during the July meeting) They included a report from the Property committee showing that the clubhouse is in good shape, and all systems were working. No other committee reports were available. Since there was a health issue with the present Secretary, Gavrielah Hojnacki (KD8CTL) George, W8FWG offered his services to fill in the remainder of her term as “Acting Secretary.” This offer was accepted by the existing Secretary, and approved by the President, with an amendment to serve up to the time of the next election in March of 2009. This was agreed to by George, W8FWG. Self introductions followed, with the following radio amateurs present at the meeting: KD8CTL, KB9RQZ, N8ZBJ, WA8JSF, W8ERB, W9VLM, W8ILS, W4KAR, WB8ZYL, WA8QNF, K6IPC, W8DAO, KB8XI and W8FWG. Our President voiced concern of the ongoing uncertainly of the operation of our 146.670 MHz repeater in Herman. George, W8FWG reported for Chuck, WB8FCY, that this property may have already been sold by the DNR, to a radio or TV broadcasting company but that we had no assurance that that had taken place. George offered to contact the DNR (a ham in the DNR, whom he knows) to get the latest information on that site, and to report back to the President of the club, ASAP. Treasurer’s Report: By Paul, W9VLM, indicated we have received a request from the State of Michigan regarding our charter and status as a non-profit organization. This means a charge of $20 annually, and the Treasurer was instructed to pay it. At 7:36 pm Gavrielah had to leave suddenly (no reason given) and the roster of those present was turned over to George, W8FWG. Glenn, WA8QNF asked this question of the President. “Mark, in the interest of the CCRAA would you be willing to step down as President of the organization.?” The answer given by Mark was “No!” In view of the “turbulence” that occurred, the Property Chairman’s report (W8FWG’s report) did not get read, but it is included here as follows: All utilities within the building are operational, and the weekly routines are being kept up, the monthly check of the emergency engine was completed, an additional operating chart was made up and a new antenna tuning guide was added. The lawn was not mowed, per the President’s request, because of his allergy to newly mown grass. The water leak at the roof has been corrected and one problem with a door switch remains and that should be taken care before the next meeting. Cataloging of the small parts cabinet continues, and now that we have a new computer this should be completed by year’s end..

A motion made by Glenn, WA8QNF and seconded by Roy, WB8ZYL to “Remove Mark, KB9RQZ from the office of President of the CCRAA” was introduced, and a discussion followed. When it came to a vote, there was one ABSTENTION, one NO vote, 11 YES votes, and the motion carried. George, W8FWG, being appointed Acting Secretary took ending notes. The next meeting of the CCRAA is scheduled to be held at the Osceola Clubhouse on September 2, 2008 at 7:00pm EDT. Since there was no longer a quorum (without a President or Vice President present), a motion to adjourn was entertained by Roland, KB8XI and seconded by Glenn, WA8QNF, and the meeting adjourned at 8:45pm EDT

I reported an obvious CB amp a few weeks back. It was even stated in the writeup that it was intended for CB use. Four reports, and eBay never pulled the auction. Their enforcement is haphazzard at best.

So, in short, there are folks out there who rat out a person posting a CB linear. Interesting.

yes there are several folks that spends their days and night watching ebay to 'rat out" such sales

Mr Black Goat..... I would suggust a visit to http://www.arrl.org
. If you would take the time to read about the wonderful hobby called amateur radio you may have a more positive attitude

But we're more than a hobby.....We're a trained group of radio operators ready to serve our fellow citizens by example and by public service. By the way, after you read about our service, I hope you will consider joining the ARRL. They have everything needed to begin your course of study to obtain your very own amateur radio license!

I know you think this thread is funny some how. You'll understand more after your studies.Good luck and welcome ro RRAP. 73.

P.S..........Post your shiney new call as soon as you know it!

That is right, I can't be bothered, you are neither worth the time, nor do I care who the fuck you are, but the fact remains that to the casual user of Usenet, you are posting behind a nym. You are just another Auky Kook whose whole life centers around usenet, first attacking someone then defending them...WTF is wrong with you are you bi-polar? Or is just your usual MO, changing sides at will.

Yes you did, you control the ability to post where you want, so you harrass other users of Usenet who don't fit your mold of who you think should not be targeted.

Yeah, amazing isn't it? I worked hard for my commercial

Better than that limp noodle Chad. I am and will be a Chad fan but he is past his prime. All time NFL leader in accuracy but defenses knew he couldn't throw downfield and with a crap offensive line that couldn't open holes for a runner he was doomed. O' line is better now. D is a lot better. 9-7, 8-8 maybe. 1 year for Favre and he is gone. Don't want to see him bawling whilst retiring again.

FNVW = Friendly Neighborhood Vote Wrangler. You are using a frog of one of Mark's emails to post through Google, meaning you actually went to the trouble of creating the account, just as you or one of your fellow fan club members chose to create <cardinal.snarky@gmail.com> in my honour, and you have also chosen the nym of a past FNVW, now known as the "Bob"father, as your own.

So STFU, then. You're whinging about being mistreated, whining about my "cowardice", and frogging/forging Mark's name, etc., but you can't be bothered to take the minute or two that might be necessary to run a search on my nyms. Fuck you, and fuck your groups. You are my bitchboys, so long as you continue to frog & forge whilst sobbing about persecution. If you don't like Mark, but can't be arsed to get a fucking newsreader with a killfile, that is just too damned bad for you, isn't it?

If I'm reading this right (and I'm quite sure that I am), you guys elected to remove Mark because he's allergic to newly-mown grass. That is, if the reason for the original request was based on anything mentioned during the meeting. Otherwise, I should say it was because he's bisexual, pagan and dyslexic, meaning you lot are real-life bigoted prats.

So which is it: Are you so pathetic as to remove someone for his allergy, or are you bigots? Note that I'm betting on the latter.

Hi nb, I went to www.cbtricks.com and the only Sonar linear they list is the BR-21. They say it's a 30 watter made for their ham tranmitter. It can also be used for CB if the correct capacitor is in and the correct inductor. See the schematic they have. Hope I've been some help. Rollie

According to docs. on www.cbtricks.com it looks like you have a Sonar BR-21 which is either ham or cb linear. Rollie

Hello Steve:

Back in the early 70's the guys in the San Fernando Valley Ca, say they could talk to patrol aircraft off New Zealand. This was way above channel 23 which is 27.255 Mc I never could hear them having a old Hallicrafters SX25 Super Defiant receiver and a long wire antenna.

The local SSB Stations would make comments on the lower side of channel 16 LSB that at a certain location they would loose the patrol aircraft. That would have been a neat QSL Card.

Ok point is that one needs to listen in.

I wouldn't expect to get more than ten watts out of it running CB AM. In fact, that would be pushing it pretty hard.

On the other hand, it should produce over 20 watts PEP running single sideband.

Yeah, you're really strengthening the case for Mark's fan club not being made up of a bunch of twisted, repressed gays, you are. Are there at least a few hams left in rec.radio.* who aren't inclined to defend the fanbois on account of Mark being so annoying, or are you all pretty much in the club now?

Top of the afternoon,
Well I don't see him do anymore than Montana did when he went to the chiefs (money draw and teacher for the younger quarterbacks). I do wish him luck, he's been a class act until now (I don't like that he said he would retire, than want to come back and play a month or two before training camp).

> Shame, more delusions from the paper tiger crowd over on AUK....LOL

Nice projection, but no. You guys started the frogging/forging, the x-poasting to AUK, the campaign to get your hated enemy nominated for kook awards, and you show lots of solidarity -- no outing each other to AUK as Mark's froggers/forgers, only outing him. The result to date has been one single award for Mr. Morgan, in years of x-poasting. You'd have won something yourselves, by now, but the profusion of extremely frothy and obsessed k00ks on usenet has so far protected you.

This frequency is not GMRS Class D but is MURS. MURS requires a license

You have it completely backwards. GMRS DOES require a license to operate on.

MURS DOES NOT require a license to operate on.

I wish CBers would follow rules that exist concerning the use of foul language. I like to hear and speak with CBers during my daily commute. I can't, however, have the CB on when the kids are in the car due to the prolific use of foul language. It's really sad how far the service has sunk.

Oh for the heyday of the 70s when CBers were numerous and truckers were the best drivers on the road (and, yes, I remember those days personally)!

On a recent trip, I heard foul language in Missouri, Kansas, and Colorado - especially Colorado, near Denver. I'm sure the offenders weren't locals.
They were definitely truckers. I don't know what "part of the country" the truckers were from.

Well for starters, while the above is true, there's also the fact that what is considered perfectly acceptable G rated okay sentences for kids to use in Appalachia, is considered by the rest of the country to be X-rated words that kids should never say and no one should ever use on the radio.

And all because the words simply have a different meaning in the different parts of the country.

And since most people think of cb, for some reason, as connected with Appalachia, of course you're going to hear sentences on CB such as "that freaking lady at the store didn't give my kids a poke" that you don't want your kids to hear because it's X rated "foul language".

No, not there it isn't. It doesn't mean the same thing. It's not X-rated, but perfectly acceptable G rated.

And complaining about store workers not doing that is a very valid complaint today.

And then the "radio cops" wonder why people don't like them when the radio cops turn them in to the fcc for saying such innocent things over the air as "saying obscene things over the air that are prohibited by FCC rules" and filing severe criminal charges against them with other agencies that can land the person in jail for the rest of their lives for a crime they never ever committed, just because the radio cop decides the sentence means something other than it does.

A few months back Mork admitted he allowed a 17 year old boy to engage in anal sex with him. This can be easily confirmed by a quick google check.

Now, should AUK be provided with the links at this time? Or should Mork be allowed to dig himself in even deeper? Mork won't admit it but google has the goods.

RE: CB Radio Operating

Operators on Channel 19 started out good, but because the truckers were there all the lunnies came to visit and haven't left. The truckers have a other channels they use although a few are on 19 yet. There is a lot of goofballs with their horns, sirens, echo sound and worst of all the over modulating power microphones. I stay off 19 and am not subjuected to the channel of the wierdos and juvenilles.

Switch to other channels their are still some adults on the frequencies.

I think het pr0n is what most of the gents around here are interested in, so prolly not. I'm just disturbed by anal sex in general, so I don't want to see it either.

I don't remember that episode. Was it after they jumped the shark and had Jonathan Winters playing Mork's centenarian, learning disabled baby?

LOL!!!

They were not rolling in on skip. They were local truckers calling each other, "driver." I've used CB radios since the 70s and know what I'm talking about. BTW, how does not liking foul language on the air waves (which is illegal) make someone a prude. What a leap!

Well for starters, while the above is true, there's also the fact that what is considered perfectly acceptable G rated okay sentences for kids to use in Appalachia, is considered by the rest of the country to be X-rated words that kids should never say and no one should ever use on the radio.

And all because the words simply have a different meaning in the different parts of the country.

And since most people think of cb, for some reason, as connected with Appalachia, of course you're going to hear sentences on CB such as "that freaking lady at the store didn't give my kids a poke" that you don't want your kids to hear because it's X rated "foul language".

No, not there it isn't. It doesn't mean the same thing. It's not X-rated, but perfectly acceptable G rated.

And complaining about store workers not doing that is a very valid complaint today.

And then the "radio cops" wonder why people don't like them when the radio cops turn them in to the fcc for saying such innocent things over the air as "saying obscene things over the air that are prohibited by FCC rules" and filing severe criminal charges against them with other agencies that can land the person in jail for the rest of their lives for a crime they never ever committed, just because the radio cop decides the sentence means something other than it does.

All I'm really talking about is, "shit, piss, fuck, cunt, cock-sucker, mother-fucker, tits." And maybe a few other words thrown in. I don't have a problem with people using foul language in general, just not in PUBLIC (including the PUBLIC airwaves). Inuendo that masks the meaning of a sentence to children but is amusing to adults is fine as far as I'm concerned.

How dare you waste my time with such tripe, such hearsay, when you and your fellow fans have been forging (Yes, forging) and frogging him _for years_ (regardless of whether you're organised about it) -- how the fuck do I know you or another fan didn't forge him that time? Answer: I don't.
So it's nothing but a load of fanwank, even if there is a post.

Get back to me when you have proof of his criminal record as a child

Right. So I suppose that expecting people to not say "fuck" and "shit" on PUBLIC airwaves that kids can be listening to is an "overly expressed concern??" Damn, Bob! I suppose you would defend kiddy porn, too.

Because it is a PUBLIC service. The airwaves are public. It's not a moral concern, just one of common courtesy and decent behavior. Mostly, it's because the free access nature of CB has restricted communications. By using a CB radio, you are agreeing to abide by the rules. Title 47 Part 95, section 95.413 states that "to transmit obscence, indecent or profane words, language or meaning" is prohibited. If you are using a CB and agreeing to the rules and then violate those rules, you are showing your lack of character (not to mention violating federal regulations).

I think that the terminology of the quote "Go fu*k yourself!, comes from the following:

a father and his son were having a discussion of when the father would procure a vehicle for the son on at a given time; whereas the son turns 16 and the father says "does your schmekel reach your tuchas"? and the son replies "NO" and the father tells him to come back when it does. Awhile later - a year or so - the son again approaches the father with the same question and the father again asks the same of his son, again the answer is "NO"! Then the son turns 18 years old and again comes to the father and asks the same stupid question again & if the father is going to procure a vehicle for him? Again the father ask the same stupid question and to his surprise the son answers "YES"! And that is where the terminology comes from, as the father says ""good then" - "GO FU*K YOURSELF""!

I know. It's just that the self-appointed radio cops really irrritate me since they're usually guilty of far worse crimes theirselves than what they claim the people they turn in have committed.

And the people they turn in are usually completely innocent people caught inbetween catch-22 situations that the self-appointed radio cops manufactures for them in the first place.

Since the self-appointed radio cops are obsessed with knowing every single little obscure law there is, they KNOW the laws are purposely written contradictory to each other so that the law can charge anyone for anything anytime they feel like it, no matter which course of the only possible actions to take the unfortunate person decides to take.

And yet the self-appointed radio cops who have done such, usually get away scott free from the very serious very illeal crimes they commit.

Because it's not "in the public" here and not illegal. No one agreed not to use foul language in order to post here. By using the CB radio frequencies, one is impliciting agreeing to the FCC rules of use.

If I was at a public venue, such as a game at a city park, I would call a person on the use of foul language. However, if I was in a bar & grill and someone is at the bar drinking and swearing, I'd leave it alone. It's a matter of appropriate places and contexts. The CB radio services in neither the appropriate place or context. Besides, it constitutes illegal use.

It seems that common decency isn't very common any more.

As stated in a previous post, I have never turned anyone in nor do I intend to. You're missing the whole point of the post, which is trying to make people think a little bit and perhaps treat others better - as in being more polite and respectful of other people who want to use a public service.

HELLO, McFly! I didn't advocate anything akin to cencorship. I was talking about people behaving because it's the right thing to do. I never wrote of censoring anyone. You pulled that out of your own delusions.

It most certainly is "in the public" as you put it, when you post it here.
I will agree that it is not illegal to use it here or against any rules, but you have made quite a few comments regarding "decency", to which you say it is not on the cb bands. Yet here, you feel that "decency" doesn't apply, why not? It should apply any where you are, even the "bar & grill". If you are going to preach decency and complain about it, then you must practice it across the board, not only to where "you" think it should be applied. If you don't like what people are saying at that "Bar & Grill", go to another. If you don't like what people are talking about at a particular park, go to a different part of the park or leave. Saying just because it's against the rules on cb and it's indecent, it shouldn't be said there, but perfectly ok to swear anywhere else, as long as it's to "your" standards, that hypocritical.
Honestly, if you were very concerned hearing that over the cb radio, you would be equally adamant about not perpetuating it in public or in type.

It's not just me that thinks it should be applied. It's a federal

OK, you're point??? I never disagreed with you, I was talking about how you repeated those words in type, to which was not necessary nor was it decent or appropriate. YOU are the one going on about how "decency" is needed on CB radio airwaves, I'll agree, same paragraph you go off and type the very words you say are indecent to say, you don't think that's a little hypocritical? I was at a SF Giants game last week with my 6 year old grandson, the people behind me were using words that I thought were inappropriate for those surroundings (children with in ear shot). I even recorded it on my cell phone for the ushers to hear, they said that it wasn't "foul language", though it's content was pretty raw, they couldn't do anything about it. So I requested to be moved to comparable seats due to the fact these people were not taking into account there were children with in ear shot, they moved me. Now they weren't swearing, but I did not want my grandson hearing about how he puked his guts out because he drank to much, or what drugs they were taking to get high.
My whole point is, you are going off on how people swear on the CB radio, it's indecent and against the rules, but yet you break that decency rule right away by putting it into type.

If you are going to complain about decency, you must practice it too.

There is no decency rule against putting it into type. There is a clear federal regulation against using it on the CB.

Well, I agree with the original poster that foul language doesn't belong on the CB. However, the original poster seems to not grasp the concept that what is considered foul language in his part of the country isn't necessarilly considered foul language in other parts of the country.

Such as in the original poster's part of the country, wherever that is, "tits" is considered foul language the same as F.U. and other words he mentioned, while in my part of the country,
"tits" was never considered a foul or obscene word like F.U. and other words the original poster mentioned.

While sentences like "She gave me a poke" is considered X-rated foul language that kids should never hear, in my part of the country, the exact same sentence is considered perfectly acceptable G-rated language that is okay for even little kids to hear and say, in Appalachia.

It means something different there than it does hear.

CB is meant for mobile operation. And for some reason seems to be associated with Appalachia, so when a self-appointed radio cop hears someone from Appalachia say that while driving elsewhere, the self-appointed radio cop
just assumes that the person said X-rated material that doesn't belong on the public airwaves and turns him in.

Even though what was said was really G-rated material that does belong on the CB.

When what's perfectly acceptable G-rated material in one part of the country is non-acceptable X-rated material in another part of the country, and the rmobile adio operator is of course used to speaking the way people in his own part of the country do.

One of the funniest things I seen, a long time ago, was a CB website written by a ham radio operator, complaining about CB'ers using CB-lingo to disguse the meaning of words instead of using plain English like the FCC rules require.

And he gave examples. (and he really believed what he wrote)

And the examples were all what is plain English (in Appalachia) just as the FCC rules require.

Except for one example he gave which was plain English all over the country while I was growing up and before that.

I don't know wherever he got the notion that "nose" was secret CB-lingo for the front of a vehicle.

When I was growing up and before that, "nose" to the mean the front of a vehicle was common plain English all over the country. The only vehicle I never heard it used for was boats, which havve their own terminology.

As for the other examples he gave, those type of hams need to learn that

"Drawers" is NOT secret CB-lingo to disguise the meaning of "underwear". It IS plain English.

"Britches" is NOT secret CB-lingo to disguise the meaning of "pants" It IS plain English

"Pedal to the metal" IS not secret CB lingo. It IS plain English.

"Booger" is NOT secret CB lingo to disguise the meaning of "ghosts". It IS plain English.

"Poke: is NOT secret CB lingo to disguise the meaning of "bag" or "sack". It IS plain English.

"Roadhouse" is NOT secret CB lingo to disguise the meaning of "bar" so that the smokies don't know the CB'ers and truckers are going to a bar to get drunk. It IS plain English.

> Your sole objective in posting here seems to be of a trolling nature,

I don't think The Dude is a troll, but Dude, answer this

Under Federal law, a state can NOT make food from another state illegal, and if the person with the food is travelling interstate, it falls under Federal law and not state law.

yet you on a family vacation can go to a regular grocery store in Appalachia, buy cans of food there, and when you get into California, if a California cop catches you with those cans of food you bought in Appalachia, you are now in very very very serious legal trouble since California made a law declaring that Appalachian food is illegal drugs, which states can prohibit and make illegal under state law since Federal law also prohibits and makes illegal drugs illegal.

You are now in very very very serious legal trouble for using illegal drugs, and being a drug dealer, and being a drug dealer who gave minors (your kids) illegal drugs. And contributing to the delinquency of minors.

And now the Feds can arrest you for using illegal drugs since California police records "prove" you did.

Did you break the law or not?

And heaven help the poor Appalachian family who actually eats some of those cans of food in the next state right before they get into California and then a California cop also gets them on "traces of illegal drugs were found in their blood".

Did that family break the law or not?

remember, under Federal law, states are NOT allowed to make food from other states illegal.

But under Federal law, states ARE allowed to arrest people for using, distributing, and even simply just having illegal drugs.

I bought a bird feeder. I hung it on my back porch and filled it with seed. What a beauty of a bird feeder it is, as I filled it lovingly with seed. Within a week we had hundreds of birds taking advantage of the continuous flow of free and easily accessible food. But then the birds started building nests in the boards of the patio, above the table, and next to the barbecue.

Then came the poop. It was everywhere: on the patio tile, the chairs, the table everywhere!

Then some of the birds turned mean. They would dive bomb me and try to peck me even though I had fed them out of my own pocket.

And others birds were boisterous and loud. They sat on the feeder and squawked and screamed at all hours of the day and night and demanded that I fill it when it got low on food.

After a while, I couldn't even sit on my own back porch anymore. So I took down the bird feeder and in three days the birds were gone. I cleaned up their mess and took down the many nests they had built all over the patio.

Soon, the back yard was like it used to be.... quiet, serene and no one demanding their rights to a free meal.

Now let's see. Our government gives out free food, subsidized housing, free medical care, and free education and allows anyone born here to be an automatic citizen.

Then the illegal come by the tens of thousands. Suddenly our taxes go up to pay for free services; small apartments are housing five families; you have to wait six hours to be seen by an emergency room doctor; your child's 2nd grade class is behind other schools because over half the class doesn't speak English. Corn Flakes now come in a bilingual box; I have to 'press one' to hear my bank talk to me in English, and people waving flags other than 'Old Glory' are squawking and screaming in the streets, demanding more rights and free liberties.

Just my opinion, but maybe it's time for the government to take down the bird feeder. If you agree, pass it on; if not, continue cleaning up the poop!

The words were an allusion to George Carlin's famouse, "seven words you can never say on television" routine. Since it was all over the news that he died recently, I figured most people would have gotten the reference.

The flatlands? Or the Appalachian hills?

California, the land of fruits and nuts? Or the rest of the states?

Liberal California hates conservative Appalachia so much that California banned bringing normal food from Appalachia into California. You can get arrested, ticketed, fine, and thrown in jail for doing so.

You make a lot of references to Appalachia which seem to indicate that you sense persecution a lot for being from there. I grew up in and currently live in the Ozarks, which has even more of a hillbilly reputation than Appalachia. I call Kalifornia the granola state - nuts, fruits, and flakes.

Back to the original post: there are certain words that are considered foul language throughout the country. I wasn't referring to inuendo that can be interpreted by some as foul. I was referring to obvious foul language that would be considered foul in the entire country. You know, the words you can't say on prime time TV. . .

I'm talking to a few, some are far way, so are here in town.

What's more lame, your stepping out into the world and attempting to meet real people (of the opposite sex) or our hanging out in the anonymity of the cyber world.

I've been happily married for over 15 years; so I know the benefits to one's satisfaction in life are much greater when shared. I hope your endeavors are successful.

I agree. And if that Rush Limbaugh wasn't so liberal maybe we'd get something done (OK, he is a conservative, but doesn't have the guts to call the Republicans on their anti-conservative actions). With the commie-lib McCain courting Lieberman as veep, the presidential ticket is rock-solid socialist.

Are you sure? I've never heard of food being classified as illegal drugs by a state. I know California will dissallow food being brought into the state due to bugs that cause crop blights. They just tell you you can't bring it in. They don't charge you with a crime. I know this from personal experience.

Not true. The feds can only arrest and charge you under specific federal laws that they must site when charging you. California can make milk illegal and classify it as a narcotic. But unless there is a federal law that also classifies it as a narcotic, the feds can't charge you with a crime. It would be a state matter.

No.

That's not really accurate, either. State laws are what allows a state to arrest someone. A state cannot charge someone under a federal law just as a federal prosecutor can't charge someone under a state law. It's a little thing called jurisdiction. A state can only charge a person for having or distributing drugs under a state law. The federal laws against possession are only enforceable on federal property where the federal government has "exclusive federal jurisdiction." I know this from my training in federal law enforcement. This is only given by a state legislature and approved by the Attorney General except in territories and on reservations where no state has authority.

Sorry. Your argument sounds plausible; but the basic premise is inaccurate.

I didn't know he died. I don't watch much tv anymore or listen to the broadcast
radio. And my isp's newslinks didn't mention it.

Why watch something you can't follow or hear what's going on?

Analog cable tv keeps breaking up into unwatchable unlistenable blocks,
since the cable company picks everything up digitally now and retransmits it over the analog.

Other people at my house thought that effect is caused by poor cable wiring in our house and can be fixed by us replacing the cable with new.

Well, that won't and doesn't work. Analog cable doesn't break up into blocks even with a poor signal.

So since it is, the problem is obvious (to me) on the cable company's end.

They just can't pick up a watchable digital signal around here even with their very expensive antennas and equipment.

Other people with much better antennas than we ever had can't even pick up digital tv over the air from here. It keeps breaking up into blocks and is totally unlistenable when it does so.

So in about six months, no one around here will have any watchable tv at all.

Satellite won't work from here either. Way too many trees for that.

So it's the end of tv period, in about six months.

Which will probably cause a huge backlash by the public.

California is the ONLY state in the entire U.S. that does it.

Go to a regular grocery store in Appalachia, buy some cans of "poke salat"
or "poke salad" and just try bringing it into California, making sure that a bunch of California cops see you with it and see how long it takes before you end up in the poke. (pun intended).

> > Did that family break the law or not?

While I agree they didn't, California disagrees.

Just like someone in a state where a blood alcohol content not considered drunk in that state drinks legal in that state then crosses over into the next state where that level of blood alcohol content is considered drunk and over the legal limit even thoug he never drank any alcohol in that latter state.

He still legally gets arrested for DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol)

In the same way, California can legally arrest someone for driving under the influence of illegal drugs)

s. A state cannot charge someone under a federal law just as a Interesting. I recently read claims that since the FCC no longer investigates complaints of ham radio interference that all complaints about ham

radios

interfering with someone automatically fall under local police jurisdiction.

That is separate from and in addition to the law giving local police the authority to regulate CB radio.

 A. The federal laws against possession > are only enforceable on federal property where the federal government has > "exclusive federal jurisdiction." I

Now that can't be correct because if it is correct, then the FCC laws against posession (of 10 metermateur radios and certain FCC-approved CB radios
and 10 meter power amplifiers) are only enforcable on federal property where the federal government has exclusive federal jurisdiction and not enforcable on non-federal government property like Pilot truckstop stores or private homes
and the FCC is committing a very serious crime by doing so.

I'm not talking about using them illegally. I'm talking about the mere posession of them. Since such devices could be and were used legally (or so they thought) by some people before the FCC declared that they were always illegal
even back then.

And the FCC rule against operating certain types of FCC-approved CB
radios
ON the legal 40 CB channels makes the majority of , if not all of the CB
radios sold from the mid 70's to the present day against the law to use on the legal 40 CB channels.!!!!

They tried moving it up to the more localized UHF band (frs) but John Wilkerson did his best to make sure the opposite happened. Much to
delight of many 11 meter CB operators who don't want to move off the 11 meter band.

11 meter CB is here to stay. I hope. Because most of us poor people
afford a bunch of new radios.

And yet the radio cops will turn in someone who is using a early to mid 70's

FCC-approved Mr. Microphone for "illegally broadcastng with 1 watt of power on the FM broadcast band".

Well, from what I learned in public school, by law the FCC is supposed to grandfather those devices.

However, that's not what's been happening lately from FCC notices I read on the internet.

The oposite seems to be happening and that they're fining anyone using any device over the current limits even if that device was made years ago.

Some peole can't afford a new Mr. Microphone. Or a new CB.

And even some that can, see buying a new one as wasteful. Especially if their old one still works as well as it ever did.

Since current FCC rules prohibt using the majority of, if not all of, the FCC-approved CB radios sold since the mid 1970's to the current day on the regular legal 40 CB channels, look out!!!!

Because they've really been enforcing it lately, thanks to some of the self-appointed radio cops.

The self-appointed radio cops messed up MURS, and CB, and ham radio.

But even when pointed out to them how they messed it up, they still couldn't see the forest for the trees until it came back to bite them in the butt.

And now the self-appointed radio cops are complaining about the very rules that they theirselves wanted to force into existence and that they theirselves did get forced into existence.

What type of radio????? We can't read your mind.

The FCC came down with a ruling that 10 meter radios are illegal to sell because their primary use would be by unlicensed people/CBers. There is a list of these radios, however some 10 meter radios like the original AR-3500 were sold long before this ruling and are not illegal to posses or operate with a license.

People can't read. The 10 meter radios were NEVER approved by the FCC.

The theory was since they're amateur radios, they don't need FCC approval.

And out of the box, unmodified, covvered only the 10 meter amateur band
except for the models that were export models.

The FCC has since ruled that they (both the export and non export) are non-FCC approved CB radios.

What I'm talking about is the FCC rule which says that certain FCC-approved
CB radios are illegal to use on the CB channels.

Those were models that straight out of the box, operated only on the standard
11 meter CB channels. And FCC-approved.

And the ruling makes the majority of CB radios ever sold in the U.S., if not all of them, completely illegal to use on the regular CB channels.

So pick almost any FCC-approved model CB ever sold in the U.S., and it's most likely completely illegal to use on the regular CB channels.

According to that FCC rule.

Which is one of the rules the self-appointed radio cops wanted and got put in there.

The self-appointed radio cops have made a complete mess of the FCC rules.

Because of them the FCC rules also say that image transmissions are not permitted in the service designed for image transmissions to be permitted!!!

I guess next they'll probably hit GMRS and FRS if they haven't done so already.

Messing up just CB, ham, and MURS obviously isn't good enough for the

Because of the self-appointed radio cops, we now have completely contradictory FCC MURS rules, completely contradictory FCC Ham radio rules, and completely contradictory FCC CB radio rules.

Government can't control innocent people, so when government feels there isn't enough criminals, they create criminals by purposely making contradictory laws so that there isn't any way to not break a law no matter what course of action you take.

There is a list of these radios, however some 10

Recall -- Firm Press Release
FDA posts press releases and other notices of recalls and market withdrawals from the firms involved as a service to consumers, the media, and other interested parties. FDA does not endorse either the product or the company.

Hop Lee Trading Co., Inc. Issues Alert on Undeclared Sulfites in Flower Brand Dried Sweet Potato Contact:
Phiana Chen
718-821-2315

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- August 12, 2008 -- Hop Lee Trading Co. Inc. of 337 Butler Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., 11217, is recalling Flower brand Dried Sweet Potato because it contains undeclared sulfites. Consumers who have severe sensitivity to sulfites run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reactions if they consume this product.

Flower brand Dried Sweet Potato is sold in a 12 ounce, un-coded, clear plastic package and was distributed nationwide. It is a product of China. (Who would have thought different)

The recall was initiated after routine sampling by New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets Food Inspectors and subsequent analysis by Food Laboratory personnel revealed the presence of sulfites in Flower brand Dried Sweet Potato which were not declared on the label. The consumption of 10 milligrams of sulfites per serving has been reported to elicit severe reaction in some asthmatics. Anaphylactic shock could occur in certain sulfite sensitive individuals upon ingesting 10 milligrams or more of sulfites.

No illnesses or allergic reactions involving this product have been reported to date. Consumers who have purchased Flower brand Dried Sweet Potato are urged to return them to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with questions may contact the company at 1-718-821-2315.

I think he has become quit confused and his logic is rahter obscure and undefined. All transmitters on th emarket have either been type fact that a unit can be modified to use on another service does not invalidate the type acceptance or approval for the service that it

It was the first day of Third Grade in a new town for Little Marky. As a test, his teacher went around the room and asked each of the students to count to 50. Some did very well, counting as high as 30 or 40 with just a few mistakes. Others couldn't get past 20. Johnny, however, did extremely well; he counted past 50, right up to 100 without any mistakes.

He was so excited that he ran home and told his Dad how well he had done. His Dad nodded and told him, "That's because you are from Alabama, Son."

The next day, in language class, the teacher asked the students to recite the alphabet. It's Grade Three, so most could make it half way through without much trouble. Some made it to S or T, but Little Marky rattled off the alphabet perfectly right to the end.

That evening, Marky once again bragged to his Dad about his prowess in his new school. His Dad, knowingly, explained to him, "That's because you are from Alabama, Son."

The next day, after Physical Education, the boys were taking showers. Marky noted that, compared to the other boys in his grade, he seemed overly "well-endowed."

This confused him. That night he told his dad, "Dad, they all have little tiny ones, but mine is ten times bigger than theirs. Is that because I'm from Alabama?" he asked.

"No, Son," explained his Dad, "That's because you're 18."

Hello James and all:

You guys sure burn up a lot space and time over something really insignificant. You can get what ever you want out there.

I have seen these radios with a set of 2 and 4, 2SC2879 transistors in them as rf finial amplifiers. Big deal they are the same mickey mouse CB type radios. The price of these radios will lead many to the portable ham radios with way better design feathers.

I just don't see how anyone could live without the receiver digital IF filter that goes with the DSP capably radios.

They do attend school; and the principal does a very good job of monitoring the students' behavior. It's a small school with about 20-25 kids in each grade. That's why I live near a very small town.

I KNEW OLE' BUBBA WOULD COME THRU - - JUST GOES TO SHOW THAT REDNECKS DO KNOW SOME THINGS!!!

God Bless Texas !!

After having dug to a depth of 10 feet last year, New York scientists found traces of copper wire dating back 100 years and came to the conclusion, that their ancestors already had a telephone network more than 100 years ago.

Not to be outdone by the New Yorkers, in the weeks that followed, in California an archaeologist dug to a depth of 20 feet, and shortly after, headlines in the LA Times newspaper read: California archaeologists have found traces of 200 year old copper wire and have concluded that their ancestors already had an advanced high-tech communications network a hundred years earlier than the New Yorkers.'

One week later, The Houston Chronicle, a local newspaper in Texas, reported the following: 'After digging as deep as 30 feet in his pasture near Alvin, Brazoria County, Texas, Bubba Mitchell, a self-taught archaeologist and graduate of Texas A&M, reported that he found absolutely nothing. Bubba has therefore concluded that 300 years ago, Texas had already gone wireless.

Thank God for Bubba. Who said Texans were hicks? It's not the Texans, but his cousin Morky!

Well again, other than a couple of words, couldn't understand what you typed. I am not lying anymore than you are really Mark, how do we know? Just because you type your name? use that call sign? You are saying I'm lying,
I'm not, that was the call sign issued to me over a decade ago. It is right there, in the archives to prove it, but you call me a liar? No it's not a well it was the majority of hams promoting that "incorrect thinking".

However some ham site recently found out otherwise when they recieved a violation notice from the FCC.

The radio cops are now upset over the rules they theirselves got put into place.

and complaining about the rules not allowing hams to build their own equipment.

What's so surprising about that? 100 years ago was 1908. It was well known Alexander Grahm Bell invented the telephone earlier than that.

Why isn't it as well known today?

Well, that's our public schools education system.

I thought a redneck telephone sysyem was a bunch of empty cans tied together with strings.

It was well known as a "party line" telephone.

The local fair here is currently giving away "hillbilly air conditoners".

they're those little paper fans you use to cool yourself with.

The trc-235.

I haven't seen the trc-485 for sale at Radio Shack yet.

Obvious newcomer.

Rosenblum is good, but the best syrahs in California (and maybe the world) are the Ojai single vineyard wines. Their Whitehawk may be the single best red wine I've ever had, regardless of varietal.

Not that long ago Californoia syrah was crap. Now that may be the best wine produced in the state. There are some seriously good Syrah.

Some of the Aussie shiraz is hard to beat in the $20 price range, but I think our high end is better than theirs.

Lessee, I've got some JC Cellars, Fess Parker, and Lagier Meredith, plus Mitolo from down under.

Hmm . . . is it time to go domestic?

Something upsetting the climate of Australia, lately. Perhaps the Indian economic boom?

I haven't been impressed with much of the wine from Oz. Chile &
Argentina produce better wines.

Hmmm. I'm of the opposite mind. I was an 'early adopter' of Chilean reds, but lately it seems their prices have increased considerably faster than their quality. And I can't say I'm crazy about malbec.
OTOH, there are a half-dozen Aussie reds under $20 that I consider the equal of most Napa reds in the $30-40 range.

Todd said, "BTW I do know how to spell."

Then he describes his dime novel with, "it is about a group of college students who deiced to go investigate something they shouldn't of..."

Deiced? Were they frozen?
Shouldn't of ????? He shouldn't have....
Your? As in you're?

Todd's mother walked down to the basement and found Todd tapping furiously at his computer keyboard.

"What are you writing?", she asked.

"I'm writing a dime novel.", Todd answered.

"Oh? What is it about?" she said.

"I don't know," Todd replied. "I can't read."

how about MY mark or betterr still Mr Morgan since none of you guys is my friend

why is basic manners such a chalance for you

alegedly politeness and character are the hallmarks of real ham esp code tested ones

of course this clear lack of manners fromthe Code tested crowd was a big factor in our NoCode victory

what does quote "NoCode" unquote - have to do with you changing the subject line)hijacking), and deleting part of my original question to you as to how we need to address you:

Your Hinny
Your Hinness - the King of Homos & Queers
Your Hinness - the Queen of Homos & Queers
Your Hinness - The King/Queen of "BI" of Homos & Queers
Your Excellence - the non ruler of the CCRRA?
Hey Shi*head - you don't know what your talking about
Hey FAKAR - are you really the "FAKE" King/Queen of this or any other NG

Back to the original post: there are certain words that are considered foul language throughout the country. I wasn't referring to inuendo that can be interpreted by some as foul. I was referring to obvious foul language that would

ah, but that's just it. While I agree with you and agree the F word shouldn't be said on public airwaves, in my part of the country, the F word was said several times on prime time tv years before cable tv was even available to anyone here.

It was on regular free over the air tv. And in prime time. And at times kids could be watching. 7 PM to 11 PM or maybe it was 6 PM to 12 mdnight.

And the FCC never fined them for it.

"community standards"

This was as far back as 1981.

Just to clear up my previous post, the F word was definitely said several times as early as the 7 PM hour on free prime time tv here, and continued on into the other hours until at least 11 pm.

To learn the technical TRUTH about CB Radio without all the hype from people who are just plain ignorant, check out the following books from CBC International. They're selling right now at a big discounts on our EBAY & AMAZON stores too.

Check it out!

To see exactly what these books look like, plus all the specific, chapter-by-chapter details, see our Web at:

www.cbcintl.com

SAVE MONEY! We regularly run EBAY auctions in which you can save up to HALF the cost of our most popular CB books and accessories. To see what's currently on sale, go to the Web page above and scroll down to click on the EBAY logo.

Some of the books included are:

BOOK #1: THE "SCREWDRIVER EXPERT'S" GUIDE To Peaking Out & Repairing CB Radios. List $25. The most popular "big dummy's" guide ever published on do-it-yourself CB repairs & modifications. Covers peaking of receivers, transmitters, modulation, mike problems, antenna & SWR problems, detailed frequency modifications for both crystal & PLL radios. Loaded with charts, illustrations, and specific instructions for most brands including the new export models. This latest edition also covers slider and broadbanding tricks, FM conversions, and much more!

BOOK #2: THE CB PLL DATA BOOK. List $20. The only complete reference source on CB PLL synthesizer circuits ever published! Detailed PLL theory explained in layman's terms. How they work, and how to modify them for many more channels. Includes specific PLL block mixing diagrams, truth charts, & IC pin function diagrams for nearly every PLL chip ever used. Covers all the most popular U.S. & export chassis, with specific listings of all models using the chip.

BOOK #3: UNDERSTANDING & REPAIRING CB RADIOS. List $42. Giant 370-page technical book for the professional repairman. Picks up where the "SCREWDRIVER EXPERT'S" GUIDE leaves off. Includes circuit descriptions & troubleshooting guide for 23- & 40-Ch., crystal & PLL, solid-state & tube, AM, FM, SSB, CW, American & export models. Covers test equipment (& where to find it), transistor basics, synthesizers, receivers, transmitters, power supplies, T/R switching, antennas, interference, parts & accessory sources. Over 350 illustrations including schematics, charts, and photos. Huge subject index also lets you look up repairs by symptoms. This is "must" reading for any serious CB technician!

Yeah, that 30-3 first quarter score had me convinced. I believe that is the worst 15 minutes of football I have ever seen a team play AT ANY LEVEL compared to their competition. The truth is that the AFC North might very well be a steaming pile this year. The Bengals and Ravens are old and beat up, the Steelers play the toughest schedule in the NFL, and the Browns appear to be set for a crash and burn job much like the 2006 Bengals. 8-8 might take the division, as sad as that sounds.

With the Browns' awful secondary, the blimp in the middle of the D line, and a QB who put up Leftwich/Culpepper type stats last year (that is, much worse than Ben R., Garcia, or any other top 10 QB), the Browns are still the team that was completely dominated twice last year by Pittsburgh. With this years schedule, they're 7-9.

Lou Franklin sent some URLs in for www.cbintl.com which looks like a very good source

I also use www.cbtricks.com which also has a wealth of radio and associated product information.

I've found that searching Google for many cb (11 Meter) questions can be very benificial.

Hoping to see more activity on the 11 meter band,

Rollie

In a more recent post you said Google was good for radio related questions. Try there.

Tempranillo is also grown in Napa
Turnbull used to sell Tempranillo, I really liked it.
Usually it is blended in other wines.

Hello Jay

Yeah the days back when SSB CB was ch 16 eh? That seems like yesterday but in reality it was some 30 years ago. I found my CB license renewal from 1975 the other day while rummaging through some old documents and that sort of blew my hair back. It was a renewal, which means my first one was in 1970, both care of my dad. Simpler times back then, never even locked the doors.

I've been to Paris, it ain't that pretty at all.
I've been to Rome, I'd like to go back to Paris someday and visit the Louve museum.

this is interesting - in most states you cannot have an automatic device that will shoot someone when they come upon your premise to do you bodily harm when they break into your abode. But once they are inside past the door step, you can blast them with your trusty Gatling gun.

"WRONG! The plays of Aristophanes prove that the overwhelming majority of Athenians were straight and idiogenogamotics were ridiculed as either being effeminate or only doing kologamosis in return for political or financial favours. If this was not so then Aristophanes would not have mocked the politicians in the front seats as boy fuckers (kologamosis with young boys will illegal in ancient Athens and those engaging in it were banned from holding elected office) or made numerous bum gags, or brought naked girls on stage for an all male audience to represent peace or written plays featuring female prostitutes. Hellenistic romantic fiction such as the Aethiopica also disproves your claims that women were only regarded as baby making machines. Menanders Dyskolos also disproves your claims as does book 3 of Apollonius Argonougtica and Euripides Hellen. Kolofilia was nothing more than masturbation. Just ask yourself why it was only with a man and adolescent boy. Because it was easier for the giver to think the receiver was a young girl than if it was with a man the same age. I am going to print out several of Todd's sick Hentai cartoons and send them along to Wal-Mart and include his name and dates of publishing them.

My bet is that Wal-Mart, who cares about community values, will then give Todd the heave-ho and send him packing.

Happy Trails, Todd!

Hi,

All you cbers out there let's start contributing a litttle to this newsgroup. Maybe you have a favorite radio, antenna or some other device you'd like to share with like minded radio hobbyists. This could really be a great site, we'll have to ignore the porn, but if nobody pays attention to it, it will go away (hopefully).

I like lots of cb radios, the EF Johnsons in th early days, then the Cobras and now I like some of the RCI Ranger models. The Ranger has some features that I like and they are very compact. Presently just a 2950, but someday a 2995. I don't use other gadgets although I own a few. The 2950 has just enough go power to stretch out good on SSB.

Just some thoughts, please send us yours, Rollie

as long as such is rewarded the NG is doomed to be what it is a zone

Why would you want a 2995? For the same money you could have an HF rig with a much better receiver.

GO FOR IT,WAL-MART DOESN'T CONTROL WHAT THEIR EMPLOYEE DO OFF THE CLOCK....BESIDE I NEED THE MONEY, WHEN I SUE THE SHIT OUT OF NIMBUSTERS YOU AND THAT BITCH WHORE ADMIN WILL WISH YOU HAD NEVER HEARD OF ME...OH WAIT YOUR AN ANONYMOUS LITTLE PUSSY WHO TALK SHIT...FOR A MOMENT I WAS SCARED!!

You should be, Todd. It is simple. They can find a way to fire you and make it appear to be work related and you'll never know the real reason, though in your heart you will suspect why.
And who are you going to sue? Me? Dlloyd? Mark? Roger? Channel Cop? For what? A Usenet post? And you sure can't sue Nimbusters for letters that somebody sends. Nimbusters doesn't control that, so learn to use your punkin' head for thinking instead of a battering ram.

And stop stealing your neighbor's bandwidth. That is a crime called Theft of Services.

Mark. You make major grammatical errors that are typical of functional illiterates. If you weren't such a Sloth you'd get and use a spell check program.

And stop rewriting your firing from CCRAA. They didn't give you the boot because of your sexuality and we ALL know that. They showed you the door because of your abnormal activities, your oddball activities, and because you simply are not a nice person. You were a detriment to their club and they plucked a cancer from their midst and discarded the lump of defective tissue before it caused more harm.

That's all Toad ever does. I've had to shut down my BLOG for the second time because of his mouth. What needs to happen is for a group to pay him a visit. You know what I mean? <grin>

657. Mounting an Antron 99 in a tricky spot. HELP!

Greetings, Group!
I have a question and I hope you nice folx can help me out. I've been a CB'er for over 20 years but I'm not a tech so I'd like some advice on how to mount my Antron 99 in a tricky spot. Here's the situation. I live in an apartment complex in the end apartment of 3 on the west side. The peaked roof is about 30-40 feet high and I have power lines behind the apartment where I plan to mount this thing no less than 20 feet from my back door but they're about 12-15 feet high, that's it.

I want to mount my Antron against the apartment in the back but how? Don't laugh, I'm not a tech, just a single woman living alone so I need a simple, push up pole and ground design I can do myself. I can hire a guy to get on the roof if I must, money ain't a thang. Do I need to mount it in cement? I'd like something pseudo-permanent that I can did up and take with when I move. I'm not a nomad but just in case.

Any suggestions would be deeply appreciated. I need to do this right the first time. I work constantly and don't have a lot of time to phuque around with it. Thanks, People!

Back when I had this problem I used a loop of copper wire around the ceiling of my apartment. I put another loop around the floor around the base boards for a radial and I was actually able to transmit quite well and didn't cause any interference to my neighbors televisions.

But I was only runnning 25 watts out.

You mentioned a peaked roof, maybe someone could install the antenna on a channelmaster "Eave Mount". Not much hardware and only a few lags to fasten it and they work very well, especially for an antenna the size of a 99, Lots of luck, Rollie

If it's not too late, ditch the A-99 and go for an I-Max 2000 instead.
Don't waste money on the "ground plane" kit for either antenna.

I have the HB-200, HB-111, HB-222, HE-43C
HE-20/A,WX,B,and C, all being the same wiring.

The plug should be numbered

1. black
2. green
3. white
4. shield
5. no connection
red-not used

Time, time, time
Make time, give time, take time out
Win time, cost time, the time of your life
Spend time, sell time, the good times and the bad
Kill time, zero time, all the time in the world

Time watch, time travel, time to begin
Time table, time square, can I fit you in Time frame, time to go, time that you grew up
But tell me...

How do you feel?

The only thing i can find is Sam's Folder #10 is the one with the info on the HB 200. www.cbtricks.com had no info.

Lots of luck, Rollie

I've found the sweet spot with my handheld two meter rig.

I hang it from my pizza pass chain right above the waterline in the comode.
I get a decent reverb but my face is really close to the floaters.

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

"It does to a certain extant physically and theoretically
it holds even into the quantum but there observational confirmation is limited or non existent. That's the problem and the major stumbling block to field unification. For Dr. Einstein held out that a physical based field theory should be sought out and not left to quantum uncertainty of how the universe primly base works. Man made coordinate systems are fine without knowing from where or what is the base essence of what the space as deduced field is composed of, but not totally satisfactory. Anomalies keep space cropping up and scientists have to keep adjusting for these unexpected events. It's like a blind man that has memorized his physical surroundings to a point he feels very comfortable until that one new or unexpected event pops up and he's lost and fumbling." -- nightbat, in one of his more lucid moments.

obviously not otherwise I could never have become a memebr of the

and obviously my wife does not dislike me (or has a starnge way of showing it)

I never cry myself to sleep I have a basicaly happy life

now grow up and try to realize that you are pretty fucked up tand
spewing forth your hate and nothing more

you have a right to that hatre I agree but it has nothing to RRCB or any other radio NG

Don't count yourself out on a general license. You don't have to be smart. You just have to be committed. I got my general when I was 11. I did not understand the theory at all. However, I was committed and memorized all of the questions.

I realize that this was probably a poor way to get my license, but I really wanted it and I was too young and stupid to understand the theory.

sorry ole boy but you are not responding to lloyd davies but somebody faking being him thinking (after years of trying the same things over and over) that he can humilate lloyd by posting in his name this stupid notes everywhere he can

the most likely posters is Roger Wisemen AB8MQ

OTOH the license is not that hard to get I agree my wife manged and on that and something of a lucky draw of questions

"When I told Abbie Hoffman that he was the first one who made me laugh since Lenny Bruce died, Hoffman said, "Really? He was my god." The combination of satirical irreverence and sense of justice that Bruce and Hoffman shared was the real spirit behind the Yippies--a term I coined to describe a phenomenon that already existed: an organic coalition of stoned hippies and political activists who engaged in such actions as throwing money on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, then explaining to reporters the meaning of that symbolism. Folksinger Phil Ochs summed it up: "A demonstration should turn you on, not turn you off." So when journalists link the Yippies with misleading bedfellows, at best it's careless shorthand; at worst it's deliberate demonization. Osama bin Laden wanted an aircraft to crash into the Pentagon. thanks for the help. I probably should have given a bit more info about what i'm looking for. I need the 11 pin octal plug wiring for the power supply so that I can hook it up to a/c. I assume that the two leads from the power cord go to the transformer, but I think that there is a jumper wire connected to two pins and I haven't been able to find out which ones. hope this helps more.

Hey Scott, Don't have either ant's but why bail on the ground plane kits? Waste of aluminum/money? Thought they provided a measure (albeit small) of increased power/reception.

But you overcame that (or you'd not be in this NG). Good for you.

Some older adult hams show a similar lack of understanding and, being in their sixties and seventies, will probably not become technically savvy.
For a few, the gear cannot be made automatic enough. They need constant coaching.

[I had to delete a rambling, ill-mannered rant from here. Everything I said applied to me at some point, too.]

It's like the guy that buys a sailboat and can't find the start button. Too late to realize you need a Capt., 1st mate, Navigator, Engineer, Electrician, Bilge Rat, Chief, Cook and bottle washer on board. If not you better bring a friend who is.

obviously not otherwise I could never have become a memebr of the CCRAA let alone the President is everyone instantly disliked

and obviously my wife does not dislike me (or has a starnge way of showing it)

what radio club friends you just insted I had no friends at all

you can't even keep your rants straight

I never cry myself to sleep I have a basicaly happy life

now grow up and try to realize that you are pretty fucked up tand
spewing forth your hate and nothing more

any other radio NG

And you are not relevant here. So get the fuck out!

Oh, that reminds me of a radio call I heard on a VHF Marine radio. Bunch of happy young drunks offshore on somebody's Dad's boat, lost at night, in the fog off Dana Point CA.

NOBODY knew a whit about navigation. Asked the USCG to come get them.
CG radio op said he could refer them to a commercial tow outfit for big bucks.
They figured it out.

now grow up and face reality

Me face reality? Are you kidding? You think everyone here is one or two people, and that there is some conspiracy against you. You can't accept that you are simply nauseating to most everyone. You got elected to a ham radio club, promptly shit-canned, then whine about it. Why? Did you think they wouldn't find out that you are a fruit? C'mon mork, you honestly think the rest of the world is wrong, and that you are on some crusade for fairness?
Your personal life mirrors your Usenet life. It's fucked, you're fucked, et al. Now, you grow up and face reality.

I agree. Everything I have read indicates that the gound plane makes the antenna less lossy. I provides a return path for the signal. It also squeezes the signal a bit toward the horizon, resulting in a bit more gain - meaning that the signal is concentrated in that direction instead of being wasted by sending some power up.

Ground plane-less antennas are great where no ground plane exists or can exist, such as on boats or fiberglass vehicles. If a ground plane can exist, such as on a roof, one should be used.

Look, Ray Chason, if you don't quit gobbling Marqueer's knob in public, You won't get to see Mary "Arby's Roast beef twat" Daugherty's new video. But then you know all about being a busted urinal, because Mark likes giving you those golden showers.

(Knock at the door) Doug opens door wearing his skimpiest thong underwear

Doug: Hi Sparky! How are you!

Sparky: I'm good Doug. Is dinner ready?

Doug: Almost. In the meantime, you can snack on me, but we need to hurry before George gets here.

Sparkyscreaming) Doug! Will you shut up with the advances! I already told you I've started to like women now! Now leave me alone!

Doug: OK, OK! I just thought we could be like the old days again.

Sparky: No, I'm really going to stick it out this time.

Doug: (sniffling) Ok Sparky, have it your way. I'll respect your wishes.

Sparky: Where's George? Do we have to wait for him to eat?

Doug: Yes, he's bringing the salad.

Sparky: OK. Got any snacks?

Doug: I think so, let me check.

(knock at the door) Doug answers the door.

Dougexclaiming) George! My God! What happened to you?

Georgecrying) I was just out minding my own business, following this little girl, and all the sudden, wham! Her Dad must have seen me and punched me. I had just asked if she wanted some candy too. I think I could have had her. Then the Dad pulled out of the window of my Pacer, and beat me some more. I think he dislocated my shoulder too.

Sparky: Can we eat now?

Doug: Sparky, can't you see George is hurt? Go get one of the steaks for George's black eyes. And while you're in the kitchen Sparky, get some ice for his broken nose and busted lip too.

Sparky: OK, but I ain't eating the steak that you use on George's eyes!

Doug: OK, whatever!

(Sparky spends fully 5 minutes trying to figure out which steak is the smallest, so he can have the biggestâ€¦then finally he returns)

Doug: God Sparky! Why did you take a bite out of it? It's raw, for Christ's sake!

Sparkyunintelligible mumbling caused by mouthful of raw steak) Douggrabs steak from Sparky and applies it to George's eyes) There now George. Is that better? Dougy knows how to make you feel better, doesn't he?

George: Yes Doug, it's much better now. Thanks, you know I bruise easily.

Doug: Hey Sparky, light the grill.

Sparky: Hey, those steaks ain't half bad raw! Do we really need to cook them?

Doug: My God Sparky! Sometimes you act like a Neanderthal! Light the damn grill!

(Sparky goes out back, turns on the gas, clicks the igniter repeatedly, nothing happens. Goes back inside for matches and returns) Dougjust as Sparky lights the match) NO! STOP!

(loud explosion)

Sparky: (screaming) I'm on fire! Somebody help me!

(Sparky runs back through the house with his beard on fire, screaming for help.
Doug and George race behind him with teacups filled with water)

Finally, Doug and George manage to catch Sparky and beat out the fire in Sparky's beard with the teacups.

Sparky: Thanks guys! That was close! I saw my life flash before my eyes.

Doug: No prob Sparky. You know we love you.

George: Speak for yourself, Doug! Faggot!

Sparky: Can we eat now?

George: Well, we could if you hadn't blown up the grill!

Doug: It's OK Sparky. We'll just grill the steaks on the stove.

Sparky: I don't wanna wait! I'm getting dizzy. My cholesterol must have dropped below 300.

George: Here, drink this.

Sparky: What is it?

George: Bacon drippings. It will bring the cholesterol level back up in your blood.

Sparkydrinks greedily) Burp! Thanks George.

George: No problem. Hey Doug, you still have that "Little Boys Gone Wild in Toledo" video?

Doug: I think soâ€¦check over there in the gay porn by the VCR.

George: Faggot! (looks for the tape)

Sparky: I'm hungry! Let's eat.

Doug: Just hang on a minute. Let me get these damn steaks cooked. (throws the steaks in the pan)

George: (tearing his eyes off the video) Sparky, get the salad and dressing ready, will ya? I'm busy now.

Sparky: OK, George. (Sparky sets the table)

Doug: How do you guys like your steaks?

Sparky: Raw is fine with me.

George: (rubbing his crotch while watching the little girl video) I don't care.
Yeah, raw is fine with me too.

Doug: (mumbles) Damn weirdo'sâ€¦

Doug: (grease splatters on Doug's hairless chest) Ouch!

George: Doug, do you mind if I take this video home with me?

Doug: Sure, take it. You know I don't like females.

George: (under his breath) Faggot!

Sparky: Can we eat now?

Doug: Yep! Steaks are done. (Doug places them on the table)

Sparky: I'm first George! That's my steak!

George: Whatever Sparky! Hell, I'm just gonna leave now. (grabs the video and heads for the door)

Doug: Where you going, George?

George: Umâ€¦uhâ€¦I'm not really hungry now. I think I'll just watch this tape

Sparky: Good! Gimme his steak.

Doug: OK George, see ya later.

George: Bye

To be continuedâ€¦.

Scene: Much later in the evening after George has gone home to watch his kiddy porn, we return to find Doug and Sparky enmeshed in each other's arms.

Doug: Sparky, I knew you would come around.

Sparky: Well Doug, I kind of feel guiltyâ€¦almost as if I'm slipping back into my old self. I've really tried to kick this man habit, but I can't seem to stop having feelings for you.

Doug: Well Sparky, I always knew we were meant for each other.

Sparky: I only ask one thing of you, Doug.

Doug: What might that be, Sparky?

Sparky: All I ask is that you don't breath a word of this encounter to George.

Doug: Fair enough. I know he's a bit of a bigot.

Sparky: Yes he is, but he's still my only real friend. You know, I can't count the times that he's tried to save me when I've gotten in over my head on the newsgroup.

Doug: I know Sparky, and he's done the same for me. I really love him, but I can't let him know that.

Sparky: So, we're sworn to secrecy, right Doug?

Doug: Absolutely! Remember, we did take the AKC pledge.

Sparkychuckles quietly)

Sparky: (tentatively) OK Doug, I'm all yours.

I really don't know. Other than perhaps he's grown tired of the homo stuff that came over from the ham groups. I was kind of hoping that this would get a response from him. :-)

What happened to Doug? I know he's really messed up his life in numerous ways...proof provided by Lucas county. I know he's still selling junk on EBay as "Superskyhooks", but he appears to mostly leave this group alone.
Well, other than posting as you from time to time.

Yeah well that's what you get from stations like him. (n8wwm)

At any rate it's nice to see you in the pile, still running an Icom or no?

This is a dandy little antenna for 11 Meters. I followed the 10 Meter plan and it worked great with very flat SWR. Have worked 1000+miles with it hanging on the wall on the first floor inside the house. Bottom of the bows was only 5-6 feet above ground. Can't wait to get it on a mast with an old TV rotor because it is very directive. If you like to tinker you'll like this project.

but I used to hang out on several usenet groups having to do with CB and you had not yet begun your antenna business. Just wondering how you are doing and wanted to wish you well.
I have just started back using CB's again as I purchased a Jeep and now am out in the boonies where cell phones are totally useless.
Soooo, I bought some new radios and a Magna Force amp and an old timey 102" stainless whip with a ball mount and spring for some serious talk power from my Jeep. Take care and 73's to you and yours.

Hello doug, you sawed off turd. Have you grown a spine yet or are you still a keyboard tough guy?

You and I both know you lack the courage to face me in front of your

Revenge is like any other religion: There's always a lot more preaching than there is practicing. And most of that preaching is about what not to practice.
"Vengeance is mine" translates to: "It's not yours." The karma-peddlers will tell you how doing nothing is doing the right thing, reciting, "What goes around comes around," in that heavy-gravity tone reserved for the kind of ancient wisdom you find in comic books.
Every TV "counselor," every self-help expert, every latté-slurping new age queenie guru ...
they all chant some version of the same mantra: "Revenge never solves anything." Their favorite psalm is Forgiveness. And the hymn books are always open to the same page. Get it? When you crawl away, you're not being a punk; you're just letting the cosmos handle your business. Whoever hurt you, they'll get theirs, don't worry. Just have a little faith. Here, I see it different. I can't count on karma or faith.
And you can count on this: mess around in my neighborhood, and you will see what I mean. There is your invite, punk. I am your personal can of RAID in this zip code.

yup he is still around doing the same damn thing. It was even longer than that. He used to be called pornfessor by a guy called painkiller.

LOL, that's it, pornfessor. It was really fun to read all the banter.

moparhoLICK has mounted an antron many times

Doug just worships Mopar. It's so sad.

I've made him run from me so many times it's just not fun anymore. Notice he had to change nyms to evade killfilters, that's easily remedied.

Wow, guess it must really suck to be Steve, or anyone who agrees with him on the Morse code issue. Or you.

http://www.screedbomb.info/coosn/
Q: Who is eligible for a COOSN?

A: Kookologists with 10 or more verifiable UV points may exchange these points for a Cabal Obsidian Order Sombrero Number.

Q: Who is not eligible for a COOSN?

A: Certified net.kooks; notorious net.cretins; terminally clueless fuckwits; previous winners of kook-awards, unless an official pardon has been granted by the FNVW.

Q: How do I apply for a COOSN?

A: Make a Usenet post to alt.usenet.kooks (crossposting to your favourite newsgroups is acceptable); to ensure that the FNVW actually sees your request, try to use either of the following formats for the subject line:

[COOSN Application] Your name (or best known handle) here
[COOSN Request] Your name (or best known handle) here

Please provide a list of 10 UV points - along with verifiable evidence for each point wherever possible.

Q: Can one Kookologist nominate another Kookologist for a COOSN?

A: Yes, but the proposer should supply a verifiable list of 10 UV points for the nominee at the time of the nomination. Also, the nominee must accept the nomination before a COOSN is issued.

Q: What happens if my Sombrero Number application is refused by the FNVW?

A: The Office of Darth Bawl is always looking for new candidates. Nuff said.

Q: What are "UV points"?
1. Threats of violence, especially death. (one point per kook)
2. Lists, i.e. real lists, not just mentions of two or three names in the same post. One list per kook, unless the lists are clearly meant to serve different purposes.
3. Fanboi sites (one point per kook, not one point per site. Minimum qualification is a whole page about you; pages containing lists don't score extra if the list also appears on Usenet).
4. Fanboi newsgroups (one point per kook, not one point per group)
5. Attempts at real-life contact (e.g. posting phone numbers)
6. Fake awards, revenge nominations etc. (one point per kook)
7. Mentions in a newsgroup FAQ (e.g. soc.men).
8. Being the target of a Kooksuit (one point per kook).

yes he was calling to make the license more complex at a time when the FCCmade it clear it wanted and was going to have a simpler licensing scheme

why are you obessed with promting killfile which merely hide problems

You're 3 fans & yourself are the problem. So it hides them harassing you and it
hides your responses to them along with the "fake" "get a life" blah blah blah posts.
Nobody would harass you if you didn't respond to them and cross post all the other dribble from the other groups and talk about cb radio in the cb radio group.
You 4 make up almost 80% of the posts, all of them nothing to do about cb
radios.
SO NO, A KILL FILE DOES NOT HIDE ANY PROBLEMS, IT GETS RID OF THEM!!!

of actual posts Mark has made over the past several months.
No, these are not "made up" comments, but real posts that Mark Morgan has made.

And for the life of me, I cannot even begin to comprehend why a dolt such as he would not take a few corrective measures to clarify his oddball posts.

Spell check programs are a dime a dozen, and free. Yet Mark won't avail himself of them.

Could it be that Mark has some off-the-wall sort of keyboard with keys in odd places that cause these glaring spelling errors?
Yeah...that must be it. He must be using one of those cheap Chinese keyboards that has no vowels.

How else can it be explained?

950. Why KB9RQZ obsessively and endlessly posts "zzzz..."

Newsgroup: rec.radio.cb
Date: 2008-09-14 15:00:31 UTC
From: DeLorean <delorean@nim.bstrs>
Message-ID: <zzzzzzzzzz.zzzzzzzzzz.is.me@nim.bstrs>
Source record: 241424
Cross-posted to: rec.radio.amateur.policy,rec.radio.amateur.misc,rec.radio.cb

Mark has a goal he wants to reach by means of his "zzzz ..." posts. He wants to obliterate all topics displayed by Google Groups, and replace them with only "zzzz...". He thinks that he will be "hiding" RRAP posts that way.

More than likely, Mark is looking at a Google Groups topics display, such as the one at the following link:

http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.amateur.policy/topics?hl=en&gvc=2

If you go there, you can see Mark's clear effort to mask the subject lines.

There are many obvious problems with this approach, but Mark appears to be oblivious to all of them. First, people not using Google will not have any topics masked. Secondly, even Google Groups users have many other choices of how RRAP is displayed, and if one of those is chosen, the topics will not be masked. Chances are, Mark only sees the display that looks that way because his Google preferences are set to it.

So Mark's goal isn't really reachable, but he still obsessively attempts to reach it by changing almost all topics to "zzzz...".

It is very OCD behavior indeed.

If you want to get under Mark's skin, change the subject line back to its original content when you follow up to one of his posts. Even better, change the subject of one of his (rare) original posts to "zzzz..." so that he can't find it among all of the other threads he's watching. When you do that, it makes Mark vewy, vewy angwy, and he calls YOU the thread hijacker.

But there's no chance of getting Mark to stop this antisocial behavior on his own, as the past three years should have demonstrated to even the densest among us. Mark must be removed from RRAP to restore it, just as he had to be removed from the CCRAA to assure its viability. There is no middle ground available when dealing with a madman - none at all.

You should kill yourself, too. We could have anal man sexual relations first, then do it. The world will then be a better place without us.

This will be fun!

Yeah this place now is 100% gay cock sucking something or the other. There is almost 0% cb talk. Shit I would prefer the argiung about SWR and mobile beam antennas vs whose mobile amp is better than this gay stuff. I mean I dont hate gays or think they should die but, damn this is just not the place there are a good many gay groups to talk on....

Hey, you still got that Ford? I just picked up an F-250 last week.
It's a total basket case and might be road-worthy in another week or two, depending on how long my blood supply holds out (Feed me, Seymour!). Anyway, I'm kinda curious if you put a big alternator on your's -- thinking about doing the same with this. Any suggestions?

Maybe, I have two Ford trucks currently. An F-250 and a E-350. I may have to change my email addy to fordaholic, what say? :^P

Dang, you must have some kinda rare blood type to afford the upgrade from a total basket case to road worthy inside of a week! How much for a pint?!

Strange you should ask about the alternator, I just replaced the one in the E-350 super duty over this past weekend. IIRC it's 130 amp. I think they offer a smaller one but it's not much cheaper.

Are you looking for bigger amps than stock?

Actually, I can't find factory specs on this truck anywhere. It's also got dual tanks and I don't know how big they are, and the fuel level sensors are bad (typical of a Ford). I tried all the standard Ford sites: ford-trucks.com, fordmuscle.com, fordsucks.com, fordrocks.com, whiteyford.com, etc..... nothing. So any info would be greatly appreciated. Even a link to a -good- website if you have one.

you guy spent litteraly years rewarding that sort of posting

WTF that's supposed to mean??? There were no outwardly gay people flaunting that shit. Just because your BI, doesn't mean I have to accept it. I couldn't give a flying fuck who you fuck or fucks you, but you make almost 75% of your posts as if it's about your sexuality and we have to accept that it's ok or normal. Shocker Mark, it's not normal nor that it matters to very many people who does what to each other. At least back then it was argument over radio, amps antenna's not you whining about a few people picking on you, FUCKTARD!! that name really fits you.
I'm sorry to say there will be a day that you push someone's button too far
and they'll do something stupid to you, but go ahead and make a claim that
"I've" threaten you.....BBBBBBBBBWWWWWWAAAAAAHHHHaaaa.
I wouldn't waste the money for airfare or gas on you.

Mark J Morgan

Oh by the way, you give the last name of "Morgan" a bad rap because of the shit you pull on the internet. I get dozens of hate mail everyday because of you, 95% of it just because of the group flooding, 5% because of you're sexuality.

I'm one of the top 25 names, go figure which one is me moron!!!!!!!!!!!!

Sorry but I'm not hip to anything more than you will find on google. What year is it, and which engine and wheel base? I have a buddy that is a Ford truck -nut-, he has one of those monster turbo diesels that he's always wrenching on in order to get it ready for the next mud competition. He might be able to turn us on to more info if I can tell him what you have.

At any rate good luck with it.

Apparently, you are openly bisexual. If you, of your own free will, engage in sex with another male, you are gay. Whether you also engage in sex acts with women also is irrelevant. Bi is not totally separate from gay. Bi is also gay. You're gay!

I happen to be wghhic is irelavant to the point being made

not realy certainly not according to real gays

> Whether you also engage in sex acts

my wife would disagree

I never said it was I have said howvere is not totaly seprete from straight/hetero

no

no

but the point that flew right over your head is I am not outwardly gay in any way nor is anyelse in the NG currently or in the past that I am aware of that you know or anyone else know or think they knows the orientation of anyone is the result of stalking and harrassment , behavoir which you have rewarded in the past and in the present (witness this lastpost of yours)

if you don't want (as should be the case) to know then you ned to stop bring it up, and the opose and not reward others when they try to make an issue of such matters

Well, I figured out that the tanks are 19 gallons each, and the stock alternator is either a 40 amp or 60 amp. So I'll probably hunt around for a 100 amp job.

If that's really you, Steve, you know what to do.

If not...to the asshole:
I don't have time to spam the group with bullshit, nor do I care to see the bullshit that this group has become. I don't have any problems with CB or HAM. It's all radio, and I don't give a rats ass if you run legal or with 10,000 watts. I just hope you run your equipment properly and not offend other spectrum users. I ignore the flame threads (most of them), and will just look at the last few posts and mark the NG as read after that. It's not me spewing up the group, so go look elsewhere for a scapegoat.

Now get off my ass unless you're a hemorrhoid!
If I wanted any shit from you, I'd squeeze you!

And if you think I'm who you think I am, mail your fat ass to my PO box!
I'll leave you unclaimed so you'll be returned to sender!! HAHAHAHAHAHA!

Steveo has always acted like he owns usenet, that's why this is funny as hell. Steveo starts flame threads, continually nymshifts and imposters those who tell him how it is (and rightly so), then claims innocence and condemns others for the same behavior. He has driven off many respectable users to moderated boards and soon enough, he'll only have himself in the mirror to look at. Who will he blame then? HAHAHAHAHAHAHA!

Hello Scott

Nope not me, I've set a filter for aioe, nothing worth reading ever comes from that sewer anyway.

I kinda' figured that. Hey, it takes the same kind of person to sit behind a mike and talk to strangers, CB or ham. Many hams got their start in CB. We all have a lot invested in our equipment. Some folks are happy to stay in one place all the time (one band, like 11 meters or 2 meters). Others move around and try different things. Radio operators are radio operators whether they operate part 95 or part 97, and I'm sick of the animosity.

nerver made either statement indeed I explictly dfend your RIGHT to hate because you think I am a fag or any other reason that suits your fancy

what I object too is your trying to utrn this ng into a gay bashing one there are places to go and express your hate all you like

He is a disgusting, stuttering piece of freakness.

But, you are felon, a deadbeat dad, an abuser of your family, a stalker, and a jackass on radio and in person. He owned you, and now you worship him.

Hey Steve! You must have me confused with someone else. Sorry to give you a dose of reality, but I don't use CB or radio, so try again. I'm one of many people who hate your dumbass on usenet for turning it into a toilet.
That's
on you! Your name is SHIT and everyone who is decent realizes this.
HAHAHAHAHA! What a moron you are!

1100. NEW NAME FOR THIS PLACE

Once a good source for diatribe and argument over cb topics such as SWR, COAX LENGTH THEORY, MOBILE BEAM ANTENNAS, ALTERNATORS, MULTIPLE MOBILE ANTENNAS, ALTERNATORS & BATTERY SETUPS....

This place is now and forever to be called

COCK SUCKERS R US

WHY????
Because that is all they talk about now. Who likes guys who gets fucked by guys and is married (which I think is really poor taste anyway) who goes to truck stops for gay sex and more of the same.

You would like to think that from time to time even the cocksucking guys would want to stay on topic but they actually do stay on topic. The topic is COCKSUCKING....

So hence forth welcome to COCKSUCKERS R US and other gay stuff.
It appears that it is back to yahoo groups for good as this place has been taken over by the sexual deviants. Why this place someone might ask??? Sheesh!!! I really dont know since there are so many gay porn spots to go to. As was said before I really miss the good ole days. But then most of you probably weren't here in the early or middle 90's.
Take a look at the top of this post and see the topics that were regularly discussed daily and ask yourself when was the last time any of those topics were discussed here.

In your response you simply blame mopar. Now you or may not have an ax to grind with him but, he has been here a long time and at least in the past he wasn't a problem. Nevertheless no one person could have done all this.

I think what you are saying is you are disliked by a good many. OK but my question is a simple one.. What does any of this have to do with the stopping of discussions about CB topics only!!! Like COAX LENGTH, SWR, MOBILE BEAMS and the like. Silencing a voice is one thing but stopping of all discussions in which this group was created for????

even when you stop, they keep doing it, maybe, but if they say something once or twice a DAY, it's better than you and him doing it dozens of times a day, screwing up the newsgroups for both his & your personal pleasure.

Because, both him & you are screwing up the group for dozens of other people.
Him, because he gets his kicks by calling you names, making false accusations
and the reaction he get from you posting dozens of times a day, clogging the groups
with complete nonsense.

>You say that
> even when you stop, they keep doing it, maybe, but if they say something

why are you lying and being the very troll

I'm not lying, nor am I troll, so don't try to now shift blame from him and yourself.

I take no pleasure from it at all

It sure seems like it, most sane people would have long ago stopped responding to such nonsense.

OTOH I am doing nothing to screw up the NG he is, all I am doing making all of us have equal access to the NG as is my right

Of course you have equal access, I and I'm sure most people would agree.
The troll is getting his jollies by making you upset and post dozens of times,
thus accomplishing exactly what he wants, completely useless newsgroups.

I am tired of the answered crap being out there unanswered as along as google lasts it causes me some problem that way

now I have said this many time and you have read it many times additionaly if I answer them as I do he keeps coming back with less hamrfull crap than he goes for if I remain silent

OMG!!! Sorry, if what he says is libel (As you have claimed dozens of times), then get a lawyer and sue him, plain & simple. If what he says is slanderous, get a lawyer and sue him, plain & simple. If none of the above applies, then why should we all suffer for what he says towards you??

and why should I remain selient if I keep this up he will lose his access as he ramps it up

Excuse me??? He hasn't lost a thing, same ISP # thats been giving you a hard time for at least the past 3 years. Again, hire a lawyer and sue him, otherwise all your doing is making his claims as truth.

current ramp up is because he has lost access to another forum he values and this is "punishment" but he is will tos himself back to normal levels in a few days

Sure, if you say so, but I guess this is a normal way of life for you, not anyone else, but ok for you.

what got it going is that moparhoLICK wanted to be gay with hams, and he is angry because hams do not want to have gay sex with his keyclown ass. All of this stuff is just moparhoLICK whining for what he wants and lashing out when he finds out he (she?) can't get it, in his stuttering, canine cuckolded stupidity.

? Huh??? What does that mean?? I dont even know moparholic nor do I know you and you dont know me so why say I want to be like moparholic when I dont even know what it is that has you disliking him. There needs to be some clarity on this group. Unless of course what I mentioned in my post is NOT what you want to be discussed on this CB group.

Yes, that's right, responding to a troll is a _Very_Bad_Thing_.

If people answer to a troll post, things go for a shit in all the groups the post goes to. Just imagine how bad it could be if, in the course of responding to a troll, one - or even worse, several - people add even more groups to their response? I mean good grief, it wouldn't require many cycles of replies until all of usenet was caught up in a virtual shit-storm of replies to one single troll.

Mind you, there is something even more insidious than responding to a troll. That would be replying to the responder in order to castigate s/h/it for responding to the troll in the first place.

People who do that should be pummelled repeatedly, energetically and with malice aforesight with a two-week-dead trout.

All you have to do is check the message headers to see who is using "sock accounts" to mess with people here. The headers tell the whole story. You catch a known somebody posting from another server then that's hard for them to explain when the BS is also being posted from the same source under another name.

It's more than one and most of it comes from that aioe sewer or the cowardly criminal in Toledo. Set filters for both (among others) and the

The coward hides anyplace he can find that has a keyboard, he's too spineless to face me in person. His whole life revolves around posting gay

Nobody ever hid from you faggot. We bounce you up and down like a basketball and then you post your silly shit sme more. Dance, bitch, dance. We knew you couldnt killfile very long, you just cant take it.

Your the same guy, that the mopar dude walked up to the front door of your section
8 housing and you were to afraid to walk out of the house, right??? Answered the door with a bb gun or squirt gun or something like that, threatened to shoot
him with it or squirt urine at him.
Douglas Adair N8WWM, right???

Sick bastard.

The purpose of this petition is to inform the FCC of how many amateur radio operators believe that KB9RQZ does not fit the character qualifications to possess an amateur radio license.

Over the past several years KB9RQZ has lodged dozens of false complaints against innocent ham radio operators, he has reported numerous individuals to various law enforcement agencies for crimes such as, sexual abuse to children, sexual abuse to animals, sexual abuse to the elderly, and he has also reported a few as suspects in murder cases.

KB9RQZ also authors several on-line blogs which he uses to libel and defame his fellow amateur radio operators, presumably for his own perverse pleasure, such as khkb9rqz.blogspot.com

Fortunately, all of KB9RQZ's victims have been cleared of any wrong doing, and some are even in the process of filing legal suits against him.

I ask you all to contribute to this noble cause, and help bring an end to the vicious cycle of abuse, libel, slander, and defamation that KB9RQZ has perpetrated against the ham radio community.

For more information on KB9RQZ please visit some informative websites such as ve7kfm.com, w4nti.blogspot.com, or simply Google the call.

Thank you.

No. Still very much in use. And well used in disaster situations. Very interesting technology as well such as Winlink 2000 http://www.winlink.org/ which lets you send an email a few thousand miles via radio in the event of a wide spread outage. Such as the recent hurricanes in the southern USA where cell phone coverage died after 12 hours as they only had batteries. Or if you are sailing or boating in non cell phone covered areas. Or if you are in areas not covered by cell phone.

there is a lot of profanity on all 40 channel cb radio here in barrie
i hear alot of language on channel 1 and 19 (truckers channel) i've had it with rude cb radio operators in barrie.they have to not swear at all it is hurting my feelings.

You have weird definitions for words. Can you tell the difference between "playing a role in ending the Morse code requirement" and "being the mover and shaker who ends it"?

Please put your answer in these brackets:

Failure to comply will be treated as a negative to my question.

Thank GOD you don't work for the FCC, there would be a lot of hams in trouble, The problem I have with this is ham radio IS a HOBBY!! and people who purpose such stupid idea's take the hobby to serious and have no life.

no concern to the FCC, the FCC has jurisdiction over radio, they may view character qualifications if someone has been found guilty of violating a Law.

The FCC has NO JURISDICTION OVER THE INTERNET per Kevin Martin, Chairman of the FCC, and the FCC can not use anything from off the internet to question a licensee's character qualifications, the reason is the FCC would have to go to court over it and there is the issue of the First Amendment., Both the FCC doesn't want to do.

Sure they are, they been saying that now for a few years, but nothings happen...perhaps they really don't have a case, or perhaps something might come out that will convict them of violating the law and individuals civil rights and liberties.

Again, What he says on the INTERNET IS NOT HAM RADIO, and thus NOT THE JURISDICTION OF THE FCC!

I understand and believe you but why oh why is there a need for him to change his name so often. I mean if someone doesnt like some one its ok. The world will still keep spinning. No need to hide behind fake names since it sppears people know peoples address and everything here. Just disagree and move on. That is what we used to do when the disagreements were about coiled mobile antennas and mobile beams and amplifiers and SWR.

I will disagree with you the FCC Can interenet stuff to start an investagation like they did with you under RH but to use it as a cuase of action well they would have to defend that in court as you said and they only reason for any kind of vicous cycle is the fact certain folks like Jesswald (from his blog no less are obessed with trying

[And for Snarky, here you go. Well while claiming he ended it might have gone a little far, his "ROLE" was no more than anyone else that wrote a letter voicing his opinion on it's removal. His claim of having "bigger role

whom

he can't tell the difference anymore than he can't tell the difference between Bi and gay

he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children

Excuse me???? where did I claim you or anyone else was a child rapist??? as for difference between Bi or gay, it's matter of opinion, either way you would have sex with another male, while maintaining a relationship with a female, that means you are bisexual with sexual feelings towards both genders. Having sex with one of same gender is gay sex, not talking about bi sexuality, 2 different meanings.
By the way Mark, nice job of now working in "Sex" as part of this thread, again you have proven that you are the one that introduces it into threads, where it wasn't there before.

Yep, he invited me to his place and then regretted it when I took him up on his offer. I travel close to Toledo quite a bit so it's right on the way.
The asswipe looked like a scalded hog when he came to the door. <snicker>

He also missed the Toledo hamfest this year because I was there. I found some funny flyers about him there though. Someone littered the mens rooms with them, probably because that's one of the things he -always- posts about, gay sex in the mens room. He should thank whoever did that..cheap advertising.

--> now watch him post more gay and pedo lames below here <--

He is so predictable that it's not much fun for me to poke him with a stick anymore. That's why I bozo binned him again. He will nym shift again shortly because of it.

He might have gotten confused amid all the forgery. I know /I'm/ well past knowing who's said what about whom, anymore, in RRAP. The fanbois have become adept at hiding behind Mark's name and callsign (as well as my nyms), etc. You, for that matter, sound vaguely like <konstaan>, but that could be entirely coincidental.

...Dude, bisexuality isn't a matter of regularly sleeping with both sexes -- was Anne Heche only gay when she was with Ellen, and only straight after? No, she was bi all along, just like Angelina Jolie. If one is bi, one is bi even when one isn't having sex with any other people. Sexuality is a question of attraction, because being attracted to someone doesn't mean one will have sex with them. It's entirely possible for Mark to be bi and not having sex with anyone except his non-trans wife. The issue only ever came up because some anonymous coward tried to blackmail Mark into silence about the Morse code issue, and he outed himself instead.

> By the way Mark, nice job of now working in "Sex" as part of this thread,

Feh, everything has to do with either sex or death, or both.

Very much so not him (check spelling & grammer, to which Mark has none).
As for him getting confused, possible, but not likely.

OK, I'll some-what agree to that, but still disagree that if one has sex with someone of the same gender, that's homosexual intercourse, to which is considered gay sex. That would then constitute someone that's gay.
I personally couldn't give a rats ass who or what he sleeps with, I'm just sick & tired of the constant "fake" or no reply at all to almost every post made or some how (as with this thread) bring up sexuality into it as if it's
"I'm being attacked because of that" type of mentality.

Not suree I said major atall I clkaim a larger role than Many of the Nocoders and adknowledge bthat Others did more than I I belive I did more than MOST nocoders who wrote 2 letters to the fcc once in 1998 and again 2005-6 I worte quite a few lterr anhd not just to the FCC but lobbied my concetion form work in DC etc I nopt sure my role was major but not just rank and file Nocoder

\in fairness It was not a blackmail by an annymouse the blackmailer was Steve J Robeson K4YZ, done for the express pupose of ralling the anymouse cowards to do his dirtywork after that I did repsond to the blackmail by outing myself in RRAP was already out in my life in general I just saw no reason to inject my sexuality in the code deabate

Robeson for all his faults in those days DID have the guts to sign his work

but I never said anything about my lawyer and self defense etc but the sorwn testimony fo my county sheriff given on the subject iof this new law in lansing

OK, I am wrong about a lawyer, but "county sheriff" is not a lawyer usually, so legal advice from them is no better than from Snarky (sorry Snark). You did state a number of times that your "sheriff" told you that you could carry the gun anywhere that it was legal to have one and you said a number of times
that he said if you felt threatened that you could shoot said person you felt threatened by. So please don call that a lie.

OK, so what was this for when you typed it "he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children" What was it's meaning? I never even had anything like that in one of my responses.

read what you wrote I can "indeed carry a gun anywhere it is legal to have one" of course that is true

he said the law says it the local DA says it the castle doctrine law
is the wild west retunred to Michigan I expcept it may change at some point in which I make revised statements and be then called a ying sob
when it is merely a matter of the laws changing

read what you wrote I can "indeed carry a gun anywhere it is legal to have one" of course that is true

You have a conceal & carry permit??? I remember reading you said you don't, so how could you carry that into, let say a bowling alley?? Unless there's a sign saying no guns allowed, it's legal (that based upon the laws here in Texas), but that still does not give you the right to pack one around other than on yours or someone else private property with their permission.

> that he said if you felt threatened that you could shoot said person you
> felt
> threatened by. So please don call that a lie.

he said the law says it the local DA says it the castle doctrine law
is the wild west retunred to Michigan I expcept it may change at some point in which I make revised statements and be then called a ying sob
when it is merely a matter of the laws changing

Again, "Sheriff" is not an attorney, nor unless you have some sort of written document from the District Attorney, all Hear Say.

Pop scenario for yaa Mark. Earlier in the day one of your 2 admirers said that he was going to be in town looking for you, so you pack "Betsy" into your holster and make your way into town. You and the Mrs. are walking through the shopping district
in town, she comments on how nice that China looks in the window of Sears, while another couple is walking ahead of you looking at the Bicycles.
All of a sudden, a loud voice behind screams out "YOU GOD DAMN a hole"
He starts walking over towards you, very angry looking, you don't recognize him, but hey, the sheriff says I can shoot anyone that seam like they are going to threaten
you. He says again, "Hey, I'm talking to you" as he walks even faster at you.
Fearing your life or the little woman's, you pull Betsy, fire off 5 rounds hitting him
with three.
Were you right or wrong in shooting him???????

yopu which is in english a singular and a pural (one of the odiites of english versus german or greek or hebrew) you are part the you along with K4yz etc

Oh, thanks for the lesson ?? But in the future proper netiquette would say that you are quoting the person (being you took my quote and added that in, even though that was never mentioned in my responses). You really should quantify that type of phrase or only put it in where it originally came from.

There he goes again talking about gay stuff. You are one sick dude. If you dont like the cb topics related to keydowns then just dont get involved. Dont read it!!! Dont contribute to it. Just because you think it is stupid doesn't make it so. Have you ever thought that other people might enjoy discussing topics that you dont like??? Why bring mobile antennas, SWR and the like to a gay homo perspective just because you choose to not like the subject. Whether you think the original topics were stupid, at least they were on topic. Not like the gay stuff you always put here. I think you Doug Adair from Toledo Ohio should be ashamed of yourself for all the mess you have started and brought to yourself on this cb newsgroup.

Really??? Show me a thread where you said you have one (you can't). I watched that thread you were in about the Michigan castle law really close, that was asked of you and you said you did not need one, because you were told that if you can have a gun, and it was legal to have it where you were at, you could shoot anyone you thought would be a threat to your life or property.

Also, you didn't answer my quiz I asked of you, why? I'll post it again, just incase
you were confused, I'll take a no answer as you know it was wrong to shot them.

Pop scenario
for yaa Mark. Earlier in the day one of your 2 admirers said that he was going to be in town looking for you, so you pack "Betsy" into your holster and make your way into town. You and the Mrs. are walking through the shopping district in town, she comments on how nice that China looks in the window of Sears, while another couple is walking ahead of you looking at the Bicycles.
All of a sudden, a loud voice behind screams out "YOU GOD DAMN a hole"
He starts walking over towards you, very angry looking, you don't recognize him, but hey, the sheriff says I can shoot anyone that seam like they are going to threaten you. He says again, "Hey, I'm talking to you" as he walks even faster at
you. Fearing your life or the little woman's, you pull Betsy, fire off 5 rounds
hitting him
with three.

Were you right or wrong in shooting him???????

Look at the posts Mark, I never cut any of the quote out, you OTH did and then injected a comment that was never ever in any of my quotes.

"your inability to to do is strait your have in comon with some of my fan club accordingy it i seem prudent to assume your are already a member therefoire you aplies to you in the singular as well
> You really should quantify

I quote correctly???? Please don't try and pass the buck off as my fault.
I was not the one that took my post and inject a comment that was never there. You are the on that did that mark, not I and I pointed that out, politely
by the way and you took offense.
LOL!!!!! Because I point out irregularities on what you post, I point out that you injected a comment, totally off base on a post that I made, when I asked what that was all about you again, take offense at your own mistake and try to shift blame onto me.

That is exactly my only complaint with you, sometimes your posts look and sound normal, then someone points out a problem, you go on some sort of rant that it's the other persons problem, not mine.
I don't think your stupid nor do I think of you as any threat, but you OTH treat everyone that even might only disagree with you (never threaten you, call you names or anything) or point out where you did something wrong as some sort of troll, idiot, a hole ETC ETC. Snarky's considered a kook, usually defends you, because most of these people attack you for no reason at all, OK. But at the sometime, you have to be man enough to admit that you are wrong and move on without any malice, something I have yet seen you do when it's been proven to you.

Yes I do Mark, please don't blame me for what you can't see correctly via

OK, I am wrong about a lawyer, but "county sheriff" is not a lawyer usually,

You know Mark, I'm not going to argue with you. It's like teaching my 6 year on multiplication and doesn't understand it and refuses to listen to learn how.
Please learn to quote properly and keep an open mind.

Yes:
2) A person shall not carry a pistol concealed on or about his or her person, or, whether concealed

or otherwise, in a vehicle operated or occupied by the person, except in his or her dwelling house, place of business, or on other land possessed by the person, without a license to carry the pistol as provided by law and if licensed,

shall not carry the pistol in a place or manner inconsistent with any restrictions upon such license.

(3) A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 5 years, or by a fine of not more than $2,500.00.

Call it what you want Mark, it's not "bullying you", it's showing that you're wrong.
If the "Sheriff" "District attorney", whom ever you spoke with told you it was ok
to carry the gun around without a CWP, you'll go to jail.

Good luck calling them into court to testify that they said it was ok to no needin michigan deadly force is expressly authorized to defend my property or my person in "anyplace I may lawfully be" such shooting are shooting are comon enough to barely be noteworthy around here

BTW iy was not an attempt to to shoot I shoot someone outside my home but inside my land while trying to damgae my home, perhapops even with the intent to gain entry

the most note worthy thing is that it seem to be a teen not an adult and the the boy has NOT gotten proper medical attention even now wrong law sir

astalking victum may use deadly force to defendthemselves where ever they may lawfully be indeed as I and the sheriff undertsand the law if say K4yz showed I could shoot him on sight the same aplies to w4nti

besides I trust the sworn testimony of my local sheriif before the body that enacted the law as to what it means according to him as long as I have reason to belive I am in dnager bang

and to get where they did a section an outbuilding had to be removed from its proper place to provide access that is breaking and entering

Bang if I can he is dead
the sherrif is is full agreemnas is the DA
the only concern is that the kid may be dead since no one has shown shown up for treament of the injuries I inflicted why are you lying? that law has nothing to do with my rights of self defense

I may use deadly force (and gun BTW are not the only deadly force, I have the permits to carry the weapons I envision using should I need to all you are doing is continuing to harange in violation of federal and state law about an issue clearly where you have made the statements

Drugs??? Slurpie??? What does that have to do with me or the questions that I asked of you? You dont even know me and you call me names. Is this why you are disliked here??? I mean if we had a bad history I could perhaps understand but, I dont know you and you certainly dont know me. Also what is an AKC??? I know you are n8 but do not know what is a akc. Oh and here is another question now after some research I know what you call a keyclown, why is it that you spend so much time hating on them?

no go back off in your jack yard keyqueens

1285. Re: zzzz

1. Been the first to go ad-hominem in a newsgroup debate.

2. Accused someone of breaking a non-existent Federal Law.

3. Called a properly formatted cancel of a BI>20 article a forged cancel

4. Ranted about Free Speech when a moderator rejected their article. Two points if it's spelled "FREE SPEACH".

5. Tried to censor others, yet scream when others suggest that they killfile them or create a moderated newsgroup.

6. Complained to someone's ISP when they got spanked in a flame war.

7. Been complained about to their ISP deservedly.

8. Flamed someone from an anonymous account.

9. Made a spelling flame. (*)

10. Used RANT-CAPS & manic punctuation.

11. Claimed to be qualified to make a legal determination or medical diagnosis with no justification - bonus points if the kook is obviously projecting her/his own condition/behavior. ()

12. Claimed an academic or professional degree they obviously do not have.

13. Claimed that because of a degree or research topic, another poster cannot know anything about any other subject.

In this section give your Prospective Kook TWO points for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

1. Called someone a pedophile or drug pusher without proof.

2. Bonus if they called anyone a "Republican Nazi Pedophile"

3. Ranted about Free Speech when an anti-spammer canceled their article.

4. Posted to a newsgroup via sock-puppet.

5. Thought about becoming a Freedom Knight.

6. Voted via sock-puppet in a Big Eight vote.

7. Defended a well known kook.

8. Been Nominated for a Kook award.

9. Invented Usenet 'rules' & 'laws', particularly coming up with creative definitions for what constitutes spam & spamming.

10. Implied that she/he has powerful allies who will deal with his/her enemies, due to having affiliations with Microsoft, the CIA or some other powerful organization - no matter how flimsy the association.

11. Claimed an academic or professional degree after having stated they are a high school dropout or otherwise indicated their actual level of achievement, or claim multiple PhD's, MD's, etc.

12. 'Removed' an academic or professional degree or title from another more clueful poster. (Includes scare quotes such as 'Esq.', or 'Dr.')

13. Claimed one of the well known regulars of AUK is using a remailer to impersonate them, when all kook sign points to them.

In this section give your Prospective Kook THREE points for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

1. Threatened to kill or cause bodily harm to another via mail or post.

2. Told someone they have caused the kook to harm himself.

3. Stalked/harassed an opponent off-line.

4. Mail-bombed anyone.

5. Spammed a newsgroup.

6. Posted a forged or altered newsgroup article.

7. Lost an account due to abuse.

8. Won a kook award.

9. Threatened a groundless lawsuit via mail or post. LA Law bonus: Additional point if a TV lawyer is used.)

(Grubor bonus: If they claim John Grubor/Law Systems Institoot as counsel)

10. Threatened to have their "agents" come after someone.

11. Had a FAQ posted about their kookiness.

12. Pretended to be a sysadmin or ISP owner.

13. CC'ed emailed complaints to irrelevant or non-existent organizations email addresses, such as the DOJ, AG, CIA, FBI etc.

14. Been TOSsed and then claimed to have canceled it, her/it/himself?

(*) PalmJob Exception Rule. Cannot be applied to a mere troll's points.

() Brad Jesness Factor. Not applicable to BJ, it is expected.

Scale/Rank :
1 - 10 points : Kook Wannabe. Needs to read Grubor's posting history on dejanews. Your Prospective Kook has much to learn. They may have just screwed up once or twice.

11 - 25 points : Journeyman Kook. Needs to Continue to mimic the real kooks. Your Prospective Kook could be a contender.

26 - 36 points : Kook First Class. Still a lesser light, but Your Prospective Kook HAS arrived! People killfile him/her.

36 - 50 points : Kook cum Laude. Someone is considering writing a FAQ about your Prospective Kook. Has been nominated for at least one a.u.k award.

51 + points : Kook Magna cum Laude. Your Prospective Kook has a FAQ. Your Prospective Kook will eventually win all the big awards. Your Prospective Kook can leap tall newbies with a single bound.

Unfortunately that really isn't true. What you'll find is many of the people doing the most bitching here are largely responsible for the glut of the crap posted on this group. There is a huge convoluted web of forged posts made through shell "or what some call sock accounts" made to look like somebody else wrote the shit. If anybody tells you they can positively identify who is really who on this groups is blowing smoke up your ass.

As far as who is a major trouble maker look at Moparholic. He is in fact one of those people and his pathetic group of like minded assholes. He seems to have a hard-on for Hams, likely because the stupid drunk fucker can't pass the simple FCC test. He spends endless hours posting his abusive bullshit, while drunk, targeting people he doesn't like. Just search out his name and you'll find many posts where he threatens physical violence and boasting about his beer drinking. He's a complete wacko.

He, however, is not making an unlikely claim about himself, whereas you are claiming he's lying, based on, well, nothing much, except that he's a Republican. He's an out bisexual Republican, however, which means he's a highly unusual specimen of Rethug -- one with some integrity.

..."Grammer"? Kelsey Grammer? What does he have to do with anything?
Anyway, you've just proven your spelling/typing/proofreading skills are as good as <konstaan>, so you could indeed be him.

> As for him getting confused, possible, but not likely.

How should he know for sure if you're one particular fanboi, rather than one of a bunch of other fanbois? Most of the possibilities allegedly no longer post to usenet. If it's true that they're gone (unprovable), then either you're one of the remainder, or some n00b who wandered in late,

and has made a serious mistake in choosing sides against Mark. I'm a firm leftist, up here in Canada; despise Bush, detest McCain, and loathe Sarah Palin the Dominionist who would be President -- but you and the others lame Mark for being bi, dyslexic, and anti-code, none of which are strong motivations for a decade of (on-and-off) laming. As time goes on, and I gather more datapoints about the MMFC, they'll go on Kookpedia, and pile up, and up, and up. You will no doubt call it "stalking", and completely miss the inherent irony in complaining about something you endorse when the fan club does it (you joined the club of your own free will, so don't cry to me that you didn't realise that, by putting on that Klansmen hood, you stand for everything the fan club does, because you're anonymous, just like all the other members of the club -- that's the meaning of being in a club).

I identify as bi. I have only had straight sex. Am I straight or bi? Clearly, I can't be "gay". Do you know for certain that Mark has had gay sex? Not that it means anything to me, but your logic, as Sting said, ties me up and rapes me.

He's being frogged/forged and lamed because he's bi, dyslexic, and anti-code, yes. Not one of those things is a reason to forge, or hurl lame insults which only harm small children and the reputations of ham radio operators everywhere. If the fanbois were to just lay off Mark on the basis of his sexuality, his dyslexia, and ancient history which you have as much chance of changing as you do of avoiding theocracy if you get a Palin presidency (i.e. no chance at all, so get over yourselves and forget about getting those Morse code reqs back -- they're gone), the noise would subside, and I, incidentally, would quit paying attention to you entirely.

It's true! Awl gawd's chilluns got sexual hangups which affect nigh-unto-everything, and we're all on the death trip.

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

Man made coordinate systems are fine without knowing from where or what is the base essence of what the space as deduced field is composed of, but not totally satisfactory. Anomalies keep space cropping up and scientists have to keep adjusting for these unexpected events. Anybody have a good recommendation for a mobile amp that only needs about 4 to 5 watts of drive? I'm thinking about something in the 500 watt range.
Anything bigger wouldn't work for me, electrical system in the pickup won't handle it and I don't want to screw around up sizing the alternator.
I also don't want some shit class-c amp either, there seems to be plenty of them around. Is anybody using the new rf power mosfets in'em?

What frequency is this "license-free frequency band". 1 Km (.6 mile) is line of sight and anything should work.

Is that 500 watts PEP or 500 watts carrier (2000 watts PEP for AM)?

500 watts PEP can be done with a Texas Star DX-500. (4x2879's).
2000 watts PEP will require 100's of amps of current @ 12 volts.

MOSFETS work good at 28 volts. Until the new type car electrical systems are installed in the vehicles, stick with bipolar transistors.

You know your stuff scott. It kind of reminds me of the real talk we used to have here about amps and stuff. Most folks dont realize that you need many many amps to get the watts out of amplifiers. That is why most of us old keydowners used to make up for that with higher voltage on the transistors.

Please excuse my brother Doug N8WWM. He's been emotionally and mentally unstable for more than 10 years now. We try our best to keep an eye on him, making sure he take his meds, but sometimes it's darn near impossible for us to get to his section 8 housing.

Hey Scott, I believe he is asking what the req's are in India. Who knows if they even have a 'FCC' type of org there that dictates that.
Maybe GRMS or FRS or something of the sort.

I think the new systems are going to be 42 to 48 volts last I read in the trade magazines. Until then we'll have hybrids. The battery systems on those are claimed to run at 300 volts. You get enough juice out of the battery pack to run a 50Hp or larger electric motor, you have to think about what else you could do with a power source like that.

Anybody have any plans to try something using the hybrid vehicle battery system?

What a stupid question! The "1km band" is about 300 kHz.

Please excuse Douglas W. Adair, who is the actual poster of this stuff. His mother gave him to pedos when he was young and his family dog cuckolds him blatantly. If you continue to have problems, please email me and we'll go over make sure he's taking his meds more often.

Maybe? hehehe
Whatever corporate types thought it was a good idea to farm out the minor tech support to the sub-continent had their heads so far up their collective asses not to realize there was more than money to save versus pissed off consumers trying to understand a foreign inflection.

I think your fans are mainly bois -- I don't get much of a "gurl" vibe off them. It's "good" to know they're still clueless, cowardly fuckheads.

"But the other thing about her, she does know about international relations because she is right up there in Alaska right next door to Russia." -- Steve Doocy of FOX News was obviously a football player in his early adulthood.

Hey, Aggie! Does this sound familiar?

"Marcella proves once again that she's an ignorant racist bigot." -- OK, what race are Greeks, again? Aggie's so much more knowledgeable than I about that sort of thing. Message-ID: <O-ednWCl9cDEQFvVRVnyjgA@eclipse.net.uk>

"It could be several." -- Aggie answers marc_CH's question about which drugs Jamaican athletes such as Powell and Bolt have been taking. Message-ID: <aKydne4RQpoPFFnVnZ2dnUVZ8s_inZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Only athletes on drugs win meddles. [...]

"And the funny thing is the Greek weightlifters were not winning meddles even while on drugs. Clearly every single weightlifter that beat a Greek weightlifter was taking more drugs than they were." -- Yeah, that's the ticket, Aggie! Message-ID: <c_2dnTTpk7xBa17VnZ2dnUVZ8tHinZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Do Usenet posters on drugs not know how to spell 'medals'?" -- They really don't, marc_CH. Message-ID: <6iifvaFqlv6kU1@mid.individual.net>

"Not supporting me is equivalent to forfeiting your own rights." -- John D. Wentzky: Warrior For Your Freedumb! Message-ID: <33km2419sg6fnq3shtbatqa602eagfbskl@4ax.com>

"You cognatatively challenged fool!" -- According to Agamemnon, Stephen Wilson is, apparently, highly ignorant about cognates, and so is anyone who dares to disagree with him, in Message-ID: <Jvidnfyewe883sjVnZ2dnUVZ8rOdnZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Is it still necrophilia if I'm conscious?" -- Owen Harper, "Dead Man Walking", Torchwood (20/207)

Doug is someone who has fathered children and does nothing to support them or have any involvement with them. He is one of the reasons we all pay higher taxes for social welfare progams and why some people will rob, rape or murder you because they had a father like Douglas.

He is a wart on humanity.

A failed marriage left the mother to care
Love is gone but the kid s are still there
A broken home has become commonplace
The look of anguish on the child s face
Gone and lost

Being there just for conception
Made a promise that was all a deception
Gone and lost

[Chorus 1:]
Deadbeat dad, support he won t pay Deadbeat dad always staying away
Deadbeat dad in disgrace and despair
Deadbeat dad, to the kids it s not fair

Biology can only go so far
When your gone it leaves a scar Children learn to live without Being there is what it s all about
Gone and lost
Pay the cost

[Chorus 2:]
Deadbeat dad lost in a haze
Deadbeat dad set in his ways
Deadbeat dad, a loser at heart
Deadbeat dad won t do his part

Deadbeat dad
Deadbeat dad
Deadbeat dad
Deadbeat dad

1404. Wideband mobile antenna suggestions?

Newsgroup: rec.radio.cb

I got some good suggestions for a mobile amp, thanks to all who answered in honest help.

The next puzzle piece is a wide-band mobile antenna. I'm primarily interested in operating in the freeband region. Coverage of the upper end of the 11m band would be desirable too. I don't want a giant 9 foot whip screwed to the bumper or one of those mobile monsters that have a loading coil made out of coiled copper water pipe stuck on the roof either. I was thinking about something along the lines of a 4 foot firestick. I would assume it would handle the 500 watt amp OK. What about two antennas, each one tuned to cover a part of the range with some overlap, and a coax switch under the dash to switch between them if one won't work? Anybody use a setup like this?

If you're a ham as your "NTS" would indicate, then you would know that a loaded antenna has a higher Q and therefore a lower bandwidth than a quarter wave whip. I use a KW-7 FireStik for 10 & 11 meters. Yes, it's seven feet tall, but I talk where ever I hear on both bands.

Ever since the AKC proved Randy Chipmunk, er uh, Chapman, KB5URP, was a convicted crack dealer the keyqueens have lost their freekin' marbles trying to dream up more slams. Unfortunately, there are not enough keyqueens left, and faggot boi moparhoLICK has to impersonate others to attempt to present a larger group....HAHAHAHHHAHAAHAH!

so why? just let the diarrhea boy keep spewing his nonsense at mopar. It's not towards you, not mentioning you, hell it's only in rec.radio.cb so what does
it matter to you that he spews nonsense toward moparduck (jk) He does this almost on schedule, same time every year for the past 8 years, holidays are hard on him since he doesn't see his kids, has no money, owes money to the mother of his kids, state, feds, county and the courts. Yup, life is pretty hard on him right now, but that's ok, he can vent his anger and frustration on here, because.....He's an idiot and can't take responsibility for his own actions.

As usual as predicted more gay references. Why why why??? Since we cant get you to discuss anything on topic (that would be CB related stuff) and you like the gay stuff so much. Do you also visit groups that are on topic for your gay speak?

I recieved this from Comcast:

Dear Comcast High-Speed Internet Customer:

As of October 25, 2008, the complimentary Comcast Newsgroups service, powered by Giganews, will be discontinued. This feature provided customers access to 2 gigabytes of newsgroup information on a monthly basis. After this date, these customers will no longer be able to access the Comcast Newsgroups service through Comcast. Customers who have subscribed directly to Giganews for newsgroup access will not be affected by this change.

While we have seen a decline in popularity of newsgroups as customers have chosen to get information from other sources, we know a small percentage of our customers continue to use newsgroups today. If you are interested in continuing to access newsgroups, Giganews is offering a special promotion for Comcast customers. Click here to learn more.

So, I guess this is goodbye for me.

Either that or do as they say and click here...
Look I have been using newsgroups for over 18 years, if for some reason my isp stopped me from using it I would simply pay for it through a pay service like giganews.

Your quite the busy bee with the court system, aren't you. I wonder if all these judges know about your activities in the newsgroups, considering you've been in trouble
before for stalking.

I AM CRISCO KATHY,TAX SEASON IS ALMOST UPON US. I CAN GET YOU THE BEST RETURN. IT MIGHT BE A LITTLE BIT ILLEGAL.BUT WHAT THE HECK,THE GOVERMENT TAKES TO MUCH OF OUR MONEY. BE SURE AND BRING A BIG CAN OF CRISCO WITH YOU. I WORK BEST ON MY KNEES WHILE SOMEONE SLATHERS MY FAT ASS WITH CRISCO. BRING A BIG CAN, I HAVE A VERY LARGE ASS.

Why would the state of Ohio allow an individual like this out on the streets??
He even has civil judgments against him, wtf is wrong with him? Florida has a 3 strike law, he would be in prison for life.

He can't help himself, he has severe mental problems and stays drunk most of the time. Reckon how he claims to be indigent everytime he has to face the judge for one of his misdeeds and asks for a public defender, and yet has the money to pay the cable company for high speed internet access. Or do we pay that for him too?

Not really but I do know a few. I may get my Tech ticket at some point.

What keeps me from getting a license is having to put up with nut cases like Steveo. I didn't care for the comments I hear about him from the guys in the radio club. The last thing I need is having the drunkard showing up at my house causing trouble in front of the wife and kids. You get a sample of his crap here where he "goes off" offering to meet people for a fist fight, and he's admitted as much here, showing up at people's homes. Who needs that kind of shit transpiring on their front yard?

Thanks for your opinion. I was looking for something shorter. The tall antenna would scrape the garage door up when I pull in. Also parking decks are a problem too. A few hams I know warned me about life with a big antenna on the truck. That's why I was thinking about something smaller even if it means a bit of a compromise in performance.

Anyone here a retro aol user? I've been archiving all the aol 2.5 and 3.0 areas that the new version of aol no longer promotes (forums, chat rooms, and file libraries). In the process, I found some aol areas related to cb radio that might bring back some memories for some of you here (if you even used aol). The archive isn't complete so if you have any aol links, please send them to me so I can continue to build on what I have so far.

You can access the archive here (needs aol): http://members.aol.com/hdntrzrs (http://members.aol.com/poptopix or http://members.aol.com/schmoozes links to it) Happy memories!

You could try a Wilson 1000. Any time there is a coil, there is Q, and where there is Q, you have bandwidth issues. To reduce Q, resistance is added. A dummy load has no Q and an infinite bandwidth. It doesn't radiate very well. A resonant antenna is a natural amplifier. Ever sing in the shower? When you hit a resonance, it takes very little power for the rain room to sing back. Antennas do the same thing. Mother Nature's laws work everywhere.

AOL is a virus that people inflict upon themselves. The only way to completely remove the virus is by reformatting and reinstalling your system.

Friends don't let friends use AOL.

And another thing, why would someone pay for DSL and AOL?

 I'm registered to a PO box. Now you know why. (not because of Steveo)

I can't say I really blame you. You can't come here and ask a simple CB Radio related question without being attacked. Seems like some, and there is a big group of them here, have nothing better to do than post piles of trashy crap then try to blame it on somebody else. All you have to do is look at the huge number of posts directed against various posters and ask yourself the question: why are they doing the very same thing they cry about when they post a legitimate question or comment? The simple answer is they are part of the problem not the solution, they have no interest at all in cleaning up the news group, the more excuses they have to post their trash the better they like it. If they don't have an excuse they just make one up. Whether you choose to believe it or not but Steveo is behind 50+ percent of the trash posted, his group of buddies do the rest. I've talked to several people who know about him locally here and he has nothing better to do except get drunk and his entertainment is seeing how much trash he can get away with posting and not get called on. This guy is sick.

 I use a KW-7 FireStik for 10 & 11 meters. Yes, it's  seven feet tall, but I talk where ever I hear on both bands.

I looked up the spec's on their web site. The bandwidth is right but as you say 7 feet is a bit too big.

 You could try a Wilson 1000. Any time there is a coil, there is Q, and  where there is Q, you have bandwidth issues. To reduce Q, resistance is  added. A dummy load has no Q and an infinite bandwidth. It doesn't  radiate very well. A resonant antenna is a natural amplifier. Ever sing  in the shower? When you hit a resonance, it takes very little power for  the rain room to sing back. Antennas do the same thing. Mother Nature's  laws work everywhere.

Well thanks once again. At least there is one person, you, who is more interested in CB Radio topics than seeing who can out do their buddies posting trash.

I went to a hamfest today and picked up a 40 meter hamstick. I put my screwdriver antenna back on for 80 meters. Now it won't tune. I get a 4:1 SWR, even when I take a clip lead to the feedpoint. My 20 and 40 meter hamsticks are tuned for the center of the extra/advanced portions. I think it's a bad ground on the screwdriver. As I was monkeying around with the clip leads, the SWR did go down to 2 and 1.5 for moments so there is hope...My KW-7 still measures good at 28.370...lost a set screw in my 144/440 antenna...so much to do and so little time.

Sunspots will return...someday. We had a dozen today!

My signal stalking scanner was fun at the hamfest. They walk by and key up and my PRO-84 gives them feedback or echo. One guy using FRS had the funniest look on his face when it happened to him!!!
Caught another guy trying out 10 meter FM on 29.200. One hamfest, the sponsors were using 440 ham frequencies to do their business. One was hooked to the PA. If I wanted to figure out their PL tone...

"But the other thing about her, she does know about international relations because she is right up there in Alaska right next door to Russia." -- Steve Doocy of FOX News was obviously a football player in his early adulthood.

Hey, Aggie! Does this sound familiar?
Message-ID: <nursc4tjdsh8tpsdpqqhi5lrefr6js0qvb@4ax.com>

"Marcella proves once again that she's an ignorant racist bigot." -- OK, what race are Greeks, again? Aggie's so much more knowledgeable than I about that sort of thing. Message-ID: <O-ednWCl9cDEQFvVRVnyjgA@eclipse.net.uk>

"It could be several." -- Aggie answers marc_CH's question about which drugs Jamaican athletes such as Powell and Bolt have been taking. Message-ID: <aKydne4RQpoPFFnVnZ2dnUVZ8s_inZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Only athletes on drugs win meddles. [...]

"And the funny thing is the Greek weightlifters were not winning meddles even while on drugs. Clearly every single weightlifter that beat a Greek weightlifter was taking more drugs than they were." -- Yeah, that's the ticket, Aggie! Message-ID: <c_2dnTTpk7xBa17VnZ2dnUVZ8tHinZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Do Usenet posters on drugs not know how to spell 'medals'?" -- They really don't, marc_CH. Message-ID: <6iifvaFqlv6kU1@mid.individual.net>

"Not supporting me is equivalent to forfeiting your own rights." -- John D. Wentzky: Warrior For Your Freedumb! Message-ID: <33km2419sg6fnq3shtbatqa602eagfbskl@4ax.com>

"You cognatatively challenged fool!" -- According to Agamemnon, Stephen Wilson is, apparently, highly ignorant about cognates, and so is anyone who dares to disagree with him, in Message-ID: <Jvidnfyewe883sjVnZ2dnUVZ8rOdnZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Is it still necrophilia if I'm conscious?" -- Owen Harper, "Dead Man Walking", Torchwood (20/207)

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales

it holds even into the quantum but there observational confirmation is limited or non existent. That's the problem and the major stumbling block to field unification. For Dr. Einstein held out that a physical based field theory should be sought out and not left to quantum uncertainty of how the universe primly base works. Man made coordinate systems are fine without knowing from where or what is the base essence of what the space as deduced field is composed of, but not totally satisfactory. Anomalies keep space cropping up and scientists have to keep adjusting for these unexpected events. It's like a blind man that has memorized his physical surroundings to a point he feels very comfortable until that one new or unexpected event pops up and he's lost and fumbling." -- nightbat, in one of his more lucid moments.

I'm a guy from Toledo who enjoys showing a submissive boy a good time in every way. I have so many interests that there probably is some broad common ground between myself and about anyone. I love to talk about D/s and BDSM issues and interests, and have been generally regarded as a funny guy to hang out with who has a good head on his shoulders. Send me a message for anything else you'd like to know!

Such masterful training by Mr. Beauregard should not go unrecognised.
I, Snarky, do hereby nominate Roger "Woger" Wiseman for the Barbara Woodhouse Memorial "Dog Whistle", as trained by the aforementioned LJB.

http://www.screedbomb.info/coosn/
Q: Who is eligible for a COOSN?

A: Kookologists with 10 or more verifiable UV points may exchange these points for a Cabal Obsidian Order Sombrero Number.

Q: Who is not eligible for a COOSN?

A: Certified net.kooks; notorious net.cretins; terminally clueless fuckwits; previous winners of kook-awards, unless an official pardon has been granted by the FNVW.

Q: How do I apply for a COOSN?

A: Make a Usenet post to alt.usenet.kooks (crossposting to your favourite newsgroups is acceptable); to ensure that the FNVW actually sees your request, try to use either of the following formats for the subject line:

[COOSN Application] Your name (or best known handle) here

Please provide a list of 10 UV points - along with verifiable evidence for each point wherever possible.

Q: Can one Kookologist nominate another Kookologist for a COOSN?

A: Yes, but the proposer should supply a verifiable list of 10 UV points for the nominee at the time of the nomination. Also, the nominee must accept the nomination before a COOSN is issued.

Q: What happens if my Sombrero Number application is refused by the FNVW?

Q: What are "UV points"?
1. Threats of violence, especially death. (one point per kook)
2. Lists, i.e. real lists, not just mentions of two or three names in the same post. One list per kook, unless the lists are clearly meant to serve different purposes.
3. Fanboi sites (one point per kook, not one point per site. Minimum qualification is a whole page about you; pages containing lists don't score extra if the list also appears on Usenet).
4. Fanboi newsgroups (one point per kook, not one point per group)
5. Attempts at real-life contact (e.g. posting phone numbers)
6. Fake awards, revenge nominations etc. (one point per kook)
7. Mentions in a newsgroup FAQ (e.g. soc.men).
8. Being the target of a Kooksuit (one point per kook).
